MINING UNION VOTES TO DROP JACKSONVILLE AGREEMENT

United Policy Committee Decides to Give District Officers Right to Negotiate With Operators.

UNIFORM PAY BASE
OF $7.50 DISCARDED
Operators Who Suspended Work 16 Months Ago Insist on $5 Scale—Refuse to Deal With Union.

By the Associated Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, July 19.—District officers of the United Mine Workers of America today were free to negotiate with coal operators on any "mutually satisfactory" basis, provided all agreements be submitted to a district convention or referendum.

Thus one of the basic principles of the union policy in the bituminous coal fields—the uniform pay scale for union miners—was discarded by a decision yesterday
of the international policy committee in an attempt to cope with the repressed conditions in the country.

With the abandonment of the pay scale, the Jacksonville agreement, which assured union miners
$7.50 per day and $1.08 per ton from 1924 to 1927, was dropped as no longer an effective basis for wage negotiations. It was the expiration of this agreement April 1, 1927, which resulted in the present bituminous coal suspension.

It was made plain, however, that pending negotiation of new agreements the Jacksonville scale would prevail.

150,000 Miners Affected.
The new union policy will affect about 150,000 miners in the central bituminous field (Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois) and the outlying districts of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Nebraska. Many of the miners in these fields have been idle since the suspension 16 months ago.

Hope was expressed in miners'
circles that the district agreements would result in resumption of operations. Indiana operators said they were ready to meet the miners in wage conferences and indicated they would demand the $11.50 scale of $5 per day. Large Pennsylvania operators who mines have been on a non-union basis nearly four years said they had definitely broken with the union and would not consider further negotiations with the union.

Agitation by miners of Southern Illinois for the right to negotiate separate wage agreements brought before the policy committee the question of whether changed conditions in the bituminous fields required a modification of the union policy. The committee was assembled July 11 at the call of President John L. Lewis.

Lewis' Statement.
In a statement announcing the action Lewis said:
"The committee has conducted a comprehensive review of conditions in all districts of the bituminous coal industry and canvassed
the situation in various fields where strikes are in effect. The committee has formulated an amended policy, designed to best cope with the depressed conditions in the bituminous industry as they now exist."

The wage scale abandoned by the union yesterday had been in effect since 1920 when it was promulgated by a Federal coal commissioner appointed by President Woodrow Wilson. A strike by miners in 1922, when they were suffering from a slump in coal production and consequent loss of pay resulted in a two-year renewal of the union strike again in 1924 and the three-year Jacksonville agreement resulted.

The Jacksonville agreement represented more tonnage than ever before. The only ones left out were non-union miners of eastern Kentucky, the bituminous fields of southern West Virginia and part of northern West Virginia.

BODY OF LOEWENSTEIN FOUND NEAR BOULOGNE

Belgian Financier Vanished From Plane
While It Was Flying Across English
Channel, July 4.

By the Associated Press.
BOULOGNE, France, July 19.—
The body of Capt. Alfred Loewenstein, Belgian financier, who disappeared from his private airplane
while it was crossing the English Channel at a height of 4000 feet
July 4, was found near here today.
The body of the Belgian banker
was taken to Calais this evening
by a fishing boat, and the identity
was established by means of a wrist watch.

The death of Loewenstein had echoes on the stock exchange of London, Paris, Brussels and Berlin. A police inquiry in France developed only that his valet and stenographers, who were accompanying him on the trip, noted his disappearance when he failed to return from a lavatory at the rear of the machine. They found a door open and later the captain's collar and tie were discovered in the plane.

Surmises as to the tragedy
ranged from theories of accidental death to hoax. Members of the Loewenstein family and intimate friends of the financier strenuously denied that he had any reason to commit suicide.

The finding of the body will serve to expedite the settlement of the estate. He was a citizen of Belgium and the laws of that country provide that liquidation
of the estate of a deceased citizen
may be adjourned for four years unless there is positive proof of death. An application for a death certificate was refused by a Brussels court July 9.

As soon as the official ruling barring Tilden was given out, the Baron approached Tilden at the Hotel Carlton.

"Let's have one set, anyhow," he said. "Our tennis careers have lasted many years, but strangely enough we never have met on the courts. This decision appears to spoil all chances of us disputing a match this year, so let's play an unofficial set."

They went to the stadium where the cup matches are to be tested and played one set. Tilden won easily, 6 to 4. De Mopurgo, who felt that he was being outplayed, warned up, asked Tilden if he would make it a "real match." Tilden obliged by turning his heavy artillery on the opponent and beating the crack Italian player two more sets.

64-MILE WINDSTORM
DOES DAMAGE IN CHICAGO
Two Killed by Lightning and Man Beaten Down
From Roof.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 19.—A terrific wind that at times reached a velocity of 64 miles an hour and accompanied by lightning and a driving rain, did considerable damage in Chicago and its vicinity this afternoon and resulted in the death of at least two persons.

A woman was struck by lightning and killed on a golf course and a man working on top of a building was blown off and killed by the wind, while three companions held on desperately and saved their lives.

Herman Struwig of Hammond, Ind., was killed by lightning in Wicker Park, a suburb, when he sought shelter under a tree.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN FOUND SLAIN NEAR EAST ST. LOUIS

Authorities Suspect He Was Killed in Gangster Quarrel in Roadhouse Monday.

VICTIM POSSIBLY
FROM CICERO, ILL.
Watchman Overheard Dispute, Then a Shot—Coat
in Resort Matches Trousers on Body.

The body of an unidentified man
who had been shot to death
was found today in a ditch beside the Caseyville road, two and a half miles northeast of East St. Louis.
St. Clair County authorities think the man may have been a gangster
from Cicero, a suburb of Chicago,
killed Monday night by two St.
Louis gangsters in a quarrel over the division of $500 in an East Side beer resort.

Fred Tucker, who lives in Independence place, near French Village, was walking along the Casey-ville road this morning when he saw the body of the man, partly encased by weeds, lying with head down and feet toward the road.
Tucker said he and other residents
in that neighborhood had heard six shots Monday night, but had not investigated. Apparently the pistol had been placed against the top of the man's head and fired repeatedly.

Description of Dead Man.
The dead man was about 30 years old, and was about 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighed about 135 pounds. He wore a white shirt and dark gray striped trousers with belt.

The body was found at a time when East St. Louis authorities were trying to learn whether a murder had been committed Monday night in a barbecue stand and home-brew resort at Fifty-first and Cicero streets, on the edge of the city.

Three men quarreled for hours in the place Monday night. About 10 o'clock, tourists in a camp across the road heard the sound of crashing bottles, the breaking of furniture and finally a shot. Two men carried another man to an automobile and drove away in the direction of the place at which the body was found today.

Coat Matches Trousers on Body.
In the resort, deputy sheriffs found a man's coat with a New York City label and a straw hat
with a Joliet (Ill.) label, fragments of broken beer bottles and broken chairs. The coat matches with the trousers found on the body of the unidentified man. Nine pistol cartridges were in a pocket of the coat.

During the quarrel in the resort,
one man, thought to have been the one who was shot, was heard to say to his companions: "You fellows from St. Louis are not so tough. Up in Cicero where I come from, we deal with you guys in a 'hell of a hurry'."

Watchman Overheard Quarrel.
The person who overheard the quarrel in the East Side beer resort was C. J. Brown, watchman on the premises. The barbecue stand and adjoining bungalow are owned by Perry Richwine, East St. Louis barber. Richwine's wife and fangled were shot to death in the bungalo under mysterious circumstances in 1922. Since then the bungalow has been converted into a roadhouse and the frame barbecue stand has been erected beside it.

Brown told authorities the three men who engaged in the quarrel
there Monday night were frequenters of the place, usually coming there with four or five cars. On several occasions, Brown had seen the men dividing large amounts of money. Two of the three men used a green-blue Buick sedan
which they concealed in the weeds nearby. Brown said he had been ordered to keep out of the barbecue stand by Harvey Butler, ex-convict in charge there for the proprietor, William Watson. Butler called Brown a "dirty stool pigeon," Brown said.

Owner Tells of Fight.
Questioned after Monday night's shooting, Watson convinced the authorities he had left the barbecue stand at 4 p. m. when the three men, whom he says he did not know, were seated at a table. Butler related that later the men piled about $500 in currency on the table and started to divide it.
They quarreled over their shares
and finally, when two of the men began to beat the other, Butler declared he fled.

DIES AFTER WRONG DRUG IS GIVEN HIM AT CITY HOSPITAL

Michael Herbst Dosed With Formaldehyde by Mistake for Salts by an Attendant.

AUTOPSY TO FIX
CAUSE OF DEATH
Nature of Wrong Dose Detected Almost Immediately and Stomach Pump
Is Used but in Vain.

Treated Tuesday morning in the City Hospital receiving room for incontinence, a patient died early today after formaldehyde, a disinfectant, had been given him by mistake for an attendant who had been instructed to administer Epsom salts.

The patient, Michael Herbst, 39 years old, a railroad foreman of 4222 Bulwer avenue, was arrested
Tuesday morning with John Gallagher of 419 North Broadway in Herbst's automobile at Ninth and Dreher streets.

They had been drinking and when they arrived at City Hospital were taken in hand by Dr. Abraham Bouhasin, physician in charge of the receiving room. After a stomach pump had been used, Dr.
Bouhasin gave Gallagher a cup of salt solution and ordered a attendant to get another dose for Herbst.

Formaldehyde by Mistake.
The attendant, who was to go off duty within a few minutes, got the formaldehyde bottle instead of the salt bottle from the washroom shelf and administered a cupful to Herbst. Both solutions are kept in labeled half-gallon bottles.

The mistake was discovered
when a physician detected the odor of the formaldehyde, some of which had been spilled on the floor by the attendant. At first it was supposed that it was ammonia that had been given Herbst, but later it proved to be formaldehyde.

As soon as the error had been noted, the stomach pump was used again, but Herbst failed to rally.
Today an autopsy disclosed that the stomach had been badly burned by a corrosive. A chemical analysis will be made this afternoon by Dr. R. B. H. Gradwohl.

Schaff Won't Investigate.
The City Hospital receiving room
is under joint control of the city hospital and the dispensary, the former furnishing the attendants, internes and nurses, and the latter
the physician in charge.

Dr. Eugene Schaff, superintendent of the hospital, declared responsibility rested with the dispensary. He said he had made no investigation of the case and expected to make none.

The dispensary is in charge of Dr. H. F. Cleveland in the absence of Dr. Walter Rohlfing. Neither
Dr. Bouhasin nor Dr. Cleveland could be reached.

Dr. V. V. March said yesterday.

Her parents have been at her

Later her eyelids were seen to

MAYOR MILLER SUFFERS
FAINTING ATTACK AT OFFICE
Health Commissioner Attributes Collapse to Heat; Executive Soon Recovers.

Mayor Miller suffered a brief fainting attack at 1 p. m. today in his office in the City Hall.
Health Commissioner Starkloff, who was hurriedly summoned from the adjacent Municipal Courts Building, attributed the attack to the heat. He said the Mayor's faintness lasted only about five minutes, and that he appeared to have recovered in half an hour.
However, Dr. Starkloff advised the Mayor against attending the Tuberculosis day baseball game,
in which Mayor Miller was to have taken his usual part.

MURDER OF OBREGON DUE TO 'RELIGIOUS FANATICISM,' SAYS CALLES' STATEMENT

WOMAN AND NIECE
DROWNED IN CREEK
SOUTH OF FENTON

Bodies of Miss Leona Hick-elheim and Lorraine
Leicht Recovered Shortly After Sinking.

Two young women bathers were drowned yesterday afternoon in Fenton Creek, south of Fenton.
They were Miss Leona Hickelheim,
21 years old, 1828 South Ninth street, a bookkeeper, and her niece,
Miss Lorraine Leicht, 16, 5403
Dewey avenue.

The young women entered the creek, which is south of Fenton,
about 5 o'clock. They were accompanied by Audrey Leicht, 7-year-old sister of Lorraine, and Vernon Weil, 8, whose parents conduct a refreshment stand at Fenton.

The creek is shallow except at a bend, where the spring-fed current has scoured out a narrow basin 12 feet deep. The two older girls ventured near this basin and sank.
Deputy Sheriff James Slewin, summoned to the scene, said he thought Miss Hickelheim, who could not swim, was drowned with her when she attempted a rescue.
The Weil boy sprang news of the drowning, shouting to his parents:
"Leona and Lorraine are drowned;
their swimming caps are there, but they are gone."

Their caps were found floating near the deep basin. By means of ropes, the bodies were pulled out.
Physicians were summoned and used inhalators for four hours in an attempt to revive the two young women.

Since May 6, there have been 15
drownings in St. Louis and vicinity.
PRIVATE OWNERS MAY REOPEN
BARS ON AMERICAN LINERS Not Affected by Government Orders Which Now Keep Levantine and Other Dry.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—When the Levantine and other vessels of the United States line pass from Government to private ownership
they will promptly reopen the bars closed by executive order of the late President Harding.

Harding acted on the theory that as the Government was operating this line and the United States was dry, the ships should be dry, too.
Private American operators were not affected by the executive order,
and they have continued to serve liquor at sea. Now they have a Supreme Court decision behind them. So whoever buys the United States line will be able to stock up with drinkables at the first foreign port and minister to the wants of passengers on the same basis as their foreign flag competitors.

This, in all probability, will be considered by prospective bidders.

Sunset 7:24; sunrise (tomorrow) 4:51. In the station midway, outside the train tracks, were at least 300 spectators, who stood respectfully. Some of them could glimpse through the windows of the car with the tier, the American and Mexican flags and the flowers on the coffin, and the guard of honor at attention beside it. Many of the onlookers were Mexicans, most of whom were well dressed. In the Terminal yards outside the station a handful of Mexican trackmen also watched their compatriots' honors.

After leaving St. Louis, the special train for Mexico City, July 19.—
Search was heightened today for
those whom President Calles
termed the "intellectual directors"
of the assassination of Gen. Al-
varro Obregon, president-elect.

Obregon's body was enroute to
his native state of Sonora, some 1000 miles distant on the presidential train which he would have
used after his inauguration in December. The body is due to arrive there tomorrow.

As it left Mexico City late yester-
day, thousands of his followers
raised their right hands and took
a solemn oath to sustain his principles and to see that punishment
was meted out to those responsible
for his death. This was done at the instance of a member of Congress who, as the oath was given,
turned to President Calles standing nearby and said:
"We demand of you justice by
the punishment of those guilty of murdering Obregon."

Official announcement was made
today that several more persons
have been arrested in connection
with the assassination.

The identity of those arrested
and the total number were not disclosed, and Chief of Police Zer-
tuche declined to give out any further information until the investigation is completed.

Those previously arrested included Jose D. Leon Toran, 23-year-old art student, accused of the crime; Emilio Casado, proprietor of the restaurant at Saint Angel
where Obregon was killed, and 12 employees of the restaurant.

Due to Religious Fanaticism.
President Calles in a signed statement announced that the assassin had confessed that his crime
was motivated by religious fervor.
He also said the authorities had obtained much information "complicating directly clerical action."
The Government was determined,
he stated, to punish not only the material author of the crime but also to punish "as examples" those found to be "intellectual directors of the deed."

Gen. Antonio Rios Zertuche, installed as Chief of Police after the tragedy, announced the prisoner had commenced to talk.

Emilio Casado, proprietor of the restaurant at Saint Angel, where Obregon was killed, and 12 employees of that place are held for investigation. El Universal grafico said that the mother and wife of the assassin are under arrest.

The assassin, subjected to continuous questioning during which even President Calles had tried to obtain information from him, was said to have denied that he had accomplices, insisting that he alone
was responsible for the crime.

He was said to have lived at Mexico City six months ago to seek work. Police said they found on him a picture of the Catholic priest, Miguel Augustin Rojas, who was executed in connection with the attempt to assassinate Obregon with bombs last November.

Quiet Throughout Republic.
Gen. Limon, chief of the presidential staff, announced the situation throughout the republic continued to be quiet despite the intense feeling which the assassination had created. The army was under orders to maintain peace,
but censorship of news dispatches was removed today. Excitement in

FUNERAL TRAIN OF CARRANZA MET BY AIR ESCORT

500 Persons Pay Respects to Mexican Flyer in 27-Minute Stop at Union Station Here.

Civic and military honors were paid the late Capt. Emilio Carranza, Mexican good-will aviator, as the special train carrying his body to Mexico City from New Jersey, where he was killed in a fall of his craft, stopped at Union Station here for 37 minutes this afternoon.

The train arrived at 3:25 o'clock
over the Pennsylvania Railroad and departed at 4:02 o'clock over the Missouri Pacific. Five hundred or more persons, including official committees, were at the station to pay their respects.

Fifty soldiers from Jefferson Barracks, commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel F. H. Burr, were formed in a single line on the station platform beside the train. As it drew in, they were commanded to "present arms," and while it remained they stood at attention, presenting arms as it left.

four airplanes from Scott Field
and a group of airplanes from Lambert-St. Louis Field, which had escorted the train 50 miles from Greenville, Ill., circled in the air, and they also accompanied the special for 30 miles southward.

The committee represented the city, the Mexican colony, the consular corps, the Chamber of Commerce and the Foreign Trade Bureau. Their personnel, and about 200 spectators were admitted to the train platform.

F. Ernest Cramer, chairman of the Foreign Trade Bureau, read a formal resolution of condolence
after the train arrived, in behalf of his organization, the chamber and the St. Louis Air Board. City Register Grose, the city's spokesman, expressed the community's sympathy personally to Sebastian Carranza, father of the flyer, who is accompanying the body. After returning thanks, the elder Carranza conversed with the Mexican,
French, German and Italian Consuls.

Six wreaths of flowers were placed on the funeral car. One was from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the Chamber of Commerce and the Foreign Trade Bureau. Another was from the Sociedad Mexicana Beneficencia (Mexican Benefit Society) and the local colony of Mexicans. The others were from the consular corps. Scott Field officers, an American Legion post and L. W.
Baldwin, president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

In the station midway, outside the train tracks, were at least 300 spectators, who stood respectfully. Some of them could glimpse through the windows of the car with the tier, the American and Mexican flags and the flowers on the coffin, and the guard of honor at attention beside it. Many of the onlookers were Mexicans, most of whom were well dressed. In the Terminal yards outside the station
a handful of Mexican trackmen
also watched their compatriots' honors.

After leaving St. Louis, the special train for Mexico City, July 19.—
Search was heightened today for
those whom President Calles
termed the "intellectual directors"
of the assassination of Gen. Al-
varro Obregon, president-elect.

1000 miles distant on the pre-
used after his inauguration in December. The body is due to arrive there tomorrow.

As it left Mexico City late yester-
raised their right hands and took
a solemn oath to sustain his principles and to see that punishment
was meted out to those responsible
for his death. This was done at
the instance of a member of Congress who, as the oath was given,
turned to President Calles stand-
ing nearby and said:
"We demand of you justice by
the punishment of those guilty of
murdering Obregon."

Official announcement was made
today that several more persons
have been arrested in connection
with the assassination.

The identity of those arrested
and the total number were not dis-

OBREGON'S DEATH UNLIKELY TO BAR PACT WITH CHURCH

Mexican Archbishop, Now in Rome, Thinks Chances for Settlement May Even Be Better.

SAYS CALLES WANTS TO MAINTAIN PEACE

Declares Strife Will Not End Until Government Puts Country's Vital Interests Above Politics.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1928, by the Press and Publishing Co., Inc., New York.

ROME, July 19.—The assassination of Gen. Obregon may help the negotiation of peace between the state and the Catholic church in Mexico, in the opinion of the Mexican Archbishop, Ruiz y Flores. He has been informing the Vatican on the proper steps for bringing about the peace.

The Archbishop learned of the assassination yesterday. He took it in silent surprise for a few moments, then said: "Unhappily, it is but natural that the newly elected President should perish by violence. He caused so many deaths that sooner or later the friends of those whose blood he shed would have killed him."

"This deplorable state of affairs will not be remedied until Mexico finds a way of placing the country's vital interests above political faction. A settlement with the church will be an enormous help toward this most necessary attainment, because it will remove one of the greatest causes of factional unrest."

"I don't think Obregon's assassination will jeopardize the chances of settlement, it may boost them. Calles, who so far as can be seen, will remain in office some time, probably desires peace more ardently than before. He is tired of bloodshed. Besides, the federal finances are in a parlous state. Calles needs money and it won't be forthcoming until a settlement between the Catholics and Liberals is reached."

"Regarding negotiations, all I can say is that they have not moved forward during the last six weeks. This is not due to any lack of desire to make difficult. My report of the Catholic situation in Mexico is long and detailed, calling for the most careful study which the Holy See, through the organization established for such purposes, is now giving there. I have been instructed to remain in Rome in case the Papal Secretary of State needs me."

AMELIA EARHART WELCOMED TO CHICAGO, HER OLD HOME

Woman Flyer Says She Is "Overwhelmed" by Greeting; Went to High School There.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Amelia Earhart, the first woman to span the Atlantic by airplane, stepped from the Broadway Limited into the familiar scenes of her school days when she came back to Chicago today for a welcome tribute that will continue four days.

Accompanied by the crew of her trans-Atlantic seaplane, Friendship, Miss Earhart received one of the greatest ovations Chicago ever gave a returning hero or heroine.

"The welcome overwhelms me," she told the Reception Committee. From the Union Station to the City Hall, crowds swarmed around her party and the auto parade that conveyed her to the Mayor's office for the city's official welcome.

Miss Earhart said she was glad to return to Chicago, where she attended Hyde Park High School. She said she had set aside many hours of her four-day visit to renew acquaintances.

Wilmer Stultz, pilot of the Friendship, and Lou Gordon, the mechanic, appeared somewhat vexed at the unruly crowd in the Union Station. Gordon said difficulty keeping by the side of his fiancée, Miss Anne Bruce of Brookline, Mass., who accompanied him. They are to be married at a public ceremony tomorrow night.

P. T. Kiskadee, for divorce, filed suit for divorce at Clayton today against Mrs. Nan Kiskadee, charging general indignities. They were married in December, 1922, and separated last May. In the suit, Kiskadee declares that his wife had been cold and indifferent for a year before their separation.

STREET CARS GIVE TRANSFERS GOOD FOR WALK IN PARK

Passengers May Shift From Vandeventer to Tower Grove Lines Half a Mile Afoot.

Street car passengers in one section of St. Louis may now get transfers entitling them to a walk in Tower Grove Park.

That is to say, they may transfer between the terminus of the Vandeventer line, at Tower Grove and Magnolia avenues, and the Tower Grove line, at Bent avenue and Arsenal street, walking the intervening distance of about half a mile through the park.

This avoids the necessity of a long ride around the park and multiple transfers for those who do not wish to pay a second fare, and gives a chance for a stroll among the trees and flowers.

HOKE SMITH WAS UNDULY ALARMED ABOUT THE SOUTH

Ex-Governor of Georgia, Who Issued Call to Arms, Postpones Rally of Loyal Democrats.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 19.—Declaring that his statement last night had been issued under "misapprehension of the situation which is in far better shape than I had believed," former Gov. Hoke Smith today announced that the Democratic rally called for July 27 had been postponed.

Smith said that he found that John S. Cohen, National Committeeman, and his associates "have already set in motion machinery for a militant campaign in behalf of the national nominees."

"I am no 50-50 Democrat," his statement last night said. "My services to the party date back to the time when Democrats were obliged to arm themselves to reach the ballot box. White supremacy then was re-established by the Democratic party in the face of Federal bayonets, and through all the years has been maintained by the Democratic party."

"I have been honored by my party far beyond its just deserts, and there is no office to which I would aspire or accept."

"I owe the Democratic party an obligation of gratitude for the honors it has bestowed upon me, and likewise owe it a sacred duty, which is to defend it against its enemies from without and its malcontents within."

MEXICAN BONDS DECLINE
DUE TO OBREGON'S DEATH

Biggest Loss of $12 Recorded by National Railways Issue of 1927; Other Breaks Smaller.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The prices of Mexican bonds declined $1 to $12 in the market here yesterday due to the news of the assassination of President-elect Obregon. The decline wiped out small advances made since international bankers became interested in the Mexican situation and internal conditions there improved.

Four agents appointed to act for the participating railroads are empowered to incorporate a new organization, "Railway Express Agency Inc.," having 1000 shares of no par value capital stock to be allotted to the railroads at $100 per share.

The new company, if the plan is acceptable to railway executives, will begin operations March 1, 1929, the day following the expiration of the present contract with the American Railway Express Co.

The agents of the railroads in the negotiations are William B. Topeka, president of the Atchafalaya; Patrick E. Crowley, president of the New York Central; and Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific.

REBELS DERAIL MEXICAN TRAIN. FEDERAL REPULSE ATTACK

Seven Passengers Reported Hurt; 33 Americans Among Pullman Travelers Are Unharmed.

LAREDO, Tex., July 19.—Passengers arriving here on a train from Mexico City said that Mexican Federal troops repulsed two attacks on the train by approximately 200 insurgents, near Rincon, 275 miles from Mexico City, and captured and executed three members of the band.

The rebels derailed all except two coaches of the train. Seven passengers were slightly injured. The battle sent women and children screaming through the aisles.

A Pullman carrying 35 Americans was kept from plunging over a steep embankment into deep water by a tower. One man, said to have been thrown into the water, was rescued.

Passengers reported the rebels declared their leader was a woman. Several reports of a woman rebel leader operating in that territory have been circulated.

OUTLAW GARDNER TRIES TO ESCAPE FROM U. S. PRISON

With Joe Urbaytis, Notorious Toledo Criminal, Attempts to Shoot Way Out of Atlanta Penitentiary.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 19.—The Atlanta Federal penitentiary was besieged last night for a time from within by two desperate prisoners armed with smuggled weapons.

With three other long-term convicts they were in solitary confinement today while a guard was nursing a minor scalp wound, the only casualty of a 30-minute revolver fight.

During an exercise period in the prison yard about dusk, Roy Gardner and Joe Urbaytis, serving 50 to 60 year terms for mail robbery and notorious as "escape artists," were seen at the inner wall. Guard Captain Clarence L. Parker and Guard Bunce who found the pair in the act of climbing an improvised ladder, were confronted with drawn revolvers.

Bunce was clipped on the head. Before the other prisoners knew what had happened, the plotters had marched Parker and two other guards who rushed up, through the first toward freedom.

Nearing the second gate, they opened fire on tower sentries, using the guards as shields. Balked in this effort, because Captain Parker threw his keys through the gate grating, they surrendered to 20 guards.

President Calles' Statement On Obregon's Assassination

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, July 19.—In a signed statement issued last night, President Calles declared the assassin of Gen. Obregon had admitted the motive of his crime was religious fanaticism. His statement follows:

The criminal has already fully confessed his tragic action was motivated by religious fanaticism. Furthermore, the authorities have gained much information complicating directly clerical action in this crime.

But my Government without being impressed for one moment by this new sombre system which is being practiced against our institutions, will renew its energy, and now announces to the nation that the liberal principles of the social revolutionary movement, which popular conscience affirmed 18 years ago, can never be nullified.

It is a criminal illusion and stupid self-deceit to think that Mexico can or will ever return to the customs of our dark periods of the past.

"Revolution" must win. The "revolution" will always advance despite stealthy attacks and must win definitely for the good of the Mexican family.

To this end I call upon all revolutionary groups to sustain still more firmly the banner of the revolution, and to organize themselves into a strong indestructible union to realize noble ideals, abandoning all personal and other differences, and constructing with faith, order and the constant structure of national prosperity for the interest of all.

The unprecedented crime as a result of which Gen. Obregon lost his life has covered the nation with a justifiable shame. Every honest spirit everywhere reproves this crime with honest indignation. By it Mexico has lost the outstanding statesman of the present time and the most illustrious representative of the social movement, which has cost so much suffering for the people, and out of which so many benefits will be derived for national development.

Jefferson and declared that the

Democrats had subscribed to it in

the Houston platform—"A clarion

call to the plain people of every

political and religious faith to rally

in the fight to wrest control of the Government from those interests

that would pervert the Government to selfish or corrupt ends." He cited also the Democratic promises to the farmer.

"A man can't violate the Eighteenth Amendment, now without violating both the Republican and Democratic platforms," he said

departing from his prepared address. "The only difference between them in respect to prohibition is that the Democrats pledged themselves to observe all the laws,

while the only law the Republicans pledged themselves to observe was the Eighteenth Amendment.

Mention of the Opposition.

"By the sign of Tabor Dome

and Elk Hills and the Continental

Oil Co. Fall and Doheny and Sinclair and a few others, I beg to submit that the law the Republicans should have committed themselves to observe is the old law, "Thou shalt not steal." The action they actually took seems to say, "We may steal some more, but we'll be sober when we do steal."

"I wish all the people who are talking about me spoke in such dove-like tones as the two preceding speakers," Hay began, following Nathan Frank and Bernard P.

Boggy, Republicans. "What you have heard today is an example of what has been going on here for 15 years.

"I have lived here all these years with genial but wet gentlemen, like Mr. Frank and Mr. Boggy.

All these years they have been

their persuasive but wet arguments upon me, but I've been dry

all the time. That I'm still dry is evidence of sufficient consistency

and courage at least to go to the United States Senate."

Long Ballots Assailed.

Picking up an inordinately long

Republican primary sample ballot,

he drawled, "If things go as I think they will go, after the election, this will look like a poll of the Republican voters in St. Louis."

"A few more of these placed side by side and patched together

would encircle the globe," Frank

had remarked of the same ballot.

He said that a primary with 47

candidates for nine places on the Circuit bench in St. Louis, or 17

candidates for Sheriff, as in Jeffersen County, reduced the chances for intelligent choice to absurdity.

He conceded evils in the convention system, as formerly practiced,

but said it could be safeguarded by proper legislation.

Members of the league, after a brief address by Lon Sanders, unanimously endorsed the proposed $2,000,000 bond issue for a municipal airport, to be voted on

He received permission to make a deposition from Attorney-General Gillom after a hearing yesterday in Circuit Court. Gillom

invited newspapermen to hear

Stephenson's statement. The ex-

"dragon" hearing was in answer to his plea for permission to confer privately with his attorneys regarding personal business. He contends his incarceration is costing him thousands of dollars in business deals. The hearing was delayed until Monday.

CANDIDATES SPEAK AT WOMEN'S LUNCHEON

Hay, a Democrat, and Frank and Boggy Discuss Issues of Campaign.

Two wet, running on the dry Republican platform, and a dry, running for a place under the wet

leader of the Democratic ticket,

talked about prohibition, primaries

and farmers at the League of Women

Voters' luncheon for primary candidates for the United States

Senate yesterday, at the City Club.

It may be added that the Democrat

also mentioned corruption.

For next Wednesday the League has set itself the ambitious task of getting the views of the 47 candidates for nomination for the nine

Circuit Judgeships, at a luncheon meeting beginning at 12:15 p. m.

at City Club. The candidates will be limited to brief speeches. No provision has been made for a night

session.

The lion's share of applause went to Charles M. Hay, the only Democratic senatorial candidate to attend. The only person to get a more spontaneous outburst was

Woodrow Wilson, whom Hay mentioned in his address. Women applauded when Hay entered, several times while he spoke, and for nearly a minute when he wound up.

Does Not Name Reed.

He did not directly mention the attacks upon his candidacy by Senator Reed and his opponent for the nomination, James Collet. He quoted

a Democratic creed from the first

Does not clog pores; cannot injure sheer fabrics—(Note coupon for sample can)

This fine, pure, snow-white and soothing powder continuously destroys the acids in perspiration, as fast as they appear, before they can evaporate and cause unpleasant, disagreeable odor. Doctors prescribe Spic.

This wonderful powder is protected by U. S. patent. New, and totally different, it can't be compared with anything you've ever tried! Tens of thousands of proud, fastidious women and men have discarded the old, messy, inefficient preparations which attempt to hide odor temporarily with a strong perfume or try to close skin pores with disastrous results from forcing waste poisons back into the system.

Get a large can of Spic from your druggist. Rub plenty of Spic into the armpits, over the feet and between the toes, and dust freely over the body. Then enjoy clean, sweet, absence of body odor. Women find it wonderful for use on the Sanitary Napkin.

SUIT OVER BOATMEN'S BANK BUILDING LEASE IN COURT

Owner of Building Wants Phrase About Taxes Defined; Opposes Paying Income Levy.

A suit to determine whether the expression "all taxes, general and special," includes Federal and State income taxes was filed yesterday in Circuit Court by the Monward Realty Co., owner of the Boatmen's Bank Building, against the Beacon Realty Co., which owns the ground on which the building stands. The Monward company leased the site in 1917 for 99 years, at an annual rental of $130,000 and agreed to pay the taxes on the ground. The company maintains that the Beacon company interpreted the lease to include the Beacon company's income tax to prevent the posting of forfeiture notices.

Last month, the Monward company states, it paid $1470.08 of the Beacon company's income tax to prevent the posting of forfeiture notices.

IOWA G. O. P. PLEDGES SUPPORT TO HOOVER

Gov. Hammill Flies to State Convention With Nominee's Stand on Farm Relief.

By the Associated Press. DES MOINES, Ia., July 19.—Indorsing the Republican national platform adopted at Kansas City, the State convention of the Republican party of Iowa late yesterday pledged its support to Herbert Hoover and his running mate, Senator Curtis of Kansas.

Hoover especially was commended for his statement that the farm problem "will and must be solved." The action came after Gov. John Hammill flew to the convention from a conference with Hoover aboard the Hoover special. He brought a message of optimism for proponents of farm relief legislation.

The Governor made the trip from Council Bluffs to Des Moines by airplane and appeared before the convention with the declaration that Hoover regards the agricultural plank as the most important in the Republican platform and pledged "to enact at the earliest possible time farm relief legislation with a Federal board, with the machinery, and with the funds needed to carry on the stabilization of agriculture and the taking care of agricultural surpluses."

The Governor quoted Hoover as saying the "agricultural problem is a problem of the national Government and the Government is pledged to carry the program on." Hoover told Gov. Hammill said, that the agricultural plank in the Republican platform imposes an obligation on the President to carry on so the problem may be solved. The Republican nominee declared he would bend every energy and use all his ability to the solution of the agricultural problem, Hammill said.

MISSOURI ASSOCIATION NOW IS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Purpose of Change to Avoid Confusion and Make Aims More Readily Understood.

By the Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, July 19.—The Missouri Association is now The Missouri State Chamber of Commerce. Members of the organization, formed in 1921 "For a Greater Missouri," changed the name at a special meeting here this week.

The purposes of the change in name, officers said, is to avoid confusion accompanying the use of the word "association." It is believed "State Chamber of Commerce" will be more readily understood and the purpose of the organization more easily comprehended. Similar organizations with titles virtually the same as the new one are in existence in 33 other states. The title has become standardized for state promotion agencies.

The policies of the Missouri organization, will be carried on under its new name in the future as in the past, George Pickens, secretary, said today. "Emphasis will be given to agricultural and industrial expansion and community development," Pickens said. The Missouri Association was organized in 1923 by the Missouri Press Association, and was participated in by delegates from Chamber of Commerce clubs, farm organizations, individuals, firms, business clubs and bureaus in all sections of the State.

COMMISSION ROW ORDERED TO OBSERVE PARKING RULES

Produce Merchants Also Told to Keep Sidewalks Clear of Fruit Displays.

The merchants of Commission Row, who have done much as they pleased with regard to traffic ordinances on Third street between Lucas avenue and O'Fallon street, were notified today by Director of Streets and Sewer Brooks that the ordinances governing traffic, parking and blocking sidewalks would be rigidly enforced in that section beginning tomorrow.

In a letter to George March, president of the St. Louis Produce Association, Brooks stated traffic on Third street would be increased by the closing of Second street from Franklin avenue to Car street during the construction of the Wabash fruit auction house. He added police had been instructed to see that Third street was kept open, that cars and trucks were parked parallel to the curb and that sidewalks were not blocked with merchandise.

AIR TRAVEL AS SAFE
AS ANY OTHER SORT

B. R. Shaw Urging Airport Bond Issue, Cites Insurance Rates.

Air transportation over regularly operated lines is as safe as any other means of travel. B. Russell Shaw, airport engineer, declared yesterday at Hotel Statler at a meeting of the Co-Operative Club, in which he appealed for support for the $2,000,000 airport bond issue proposal to be submitted to the voters Aug. 7.

"The insurance companies, which make no guesses on such questions, will insure air passengers over regularly established lines without extra charge," he said. "Their actuarial calculations have established the principle of the safety of air transportation."

"The Imperial Airways, operating out of London, carried 52,000 passengers last year, without a fatal accident. Similar records have been made by other European air lines."

Shaw pointed out that St. Louis by its geographical position is suited to become the air center of the country, but reminded his audience of the statement of Col. Lindbergh that it could keep its position as an air center only by providing a "first-class municipal airport."

"Other cities have recognized the need for accommodations for aviation," he continued. "Detroit, for instance, will spend about $5,000,000 for airports. Chicago will spend a like amount. New York, with several fields already available, is building another on Harlem Island, in the harbor. Cleveland, Baltimore, Toledo, San Diego, Oakland and many other cities are also spending large amounts on airports."

In an address before the League of Women Voters, yesterday, Lon Sanders, chairman of the speakers' division of the Municipal Airport Bond Issue Committee, made an appeal for support of the bond proposal.

WHOLESALE PRICES DECLINED
1 PER CENT FROM MAY TO JUNE

Compared With June, 1927, However, They Were 4 Per Cent Higher; Farm Group a Loser.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 19. — Wholesale prices declined 1 per cent from May to June, a report issued yesterday by the Department of Labor stated, but an increase of 4 per cent was shown as compared with June, 1927.

Farm products as a group declined 2½ per cent, due mainly to declines in prices for barley, corn, rye, wheat, beef cows, calves, sheep, lambs, alfalfa, timothy hay, tobacco, onions and potatoes. Oats, beef steers and hogs, on the other hand, averaged higher than in May.

Foods decreased nearly 1 per cent and hides and leather products 2 per cent from the May level, while minor decreases were reported for textile products, chemicals and drugs, and house furnishing goods. In the group of miscellaneous commodities, including cattle feed and automobile tires, there was a decrease of nearly 3½ per cent. Small price increases were recorded in the groups of fuel and lighting materials, metals and metal products and building materials.

Of the 550 commodities for which comparable information for May and June was collected, increases were shown in 104 instances and decreases in 172 instances. In 272 instances no change in price was reported.

TWO DOMADA CO. MINES NEAR CARDIN SOLD FOR $400,000

Consolidated Lead and Zinc Co. by This Purchase Now Has 12 Active Plants.

JOPLIN, Mo., July 19.—Purchase of the two properties of the Domada Lead Zinc Co., the Domada and the Kitty mines, and the Mary M. float plant, by the Consolidated Lead & Zinc Co. for more than $400,000, was announced today by F. N. Bendelari, president of the Consolidated.

The Domada lease, south of Cardin, Ok., has been one of the most productive 40 acres in the Picher field. The property adjoins the Baby Jim, owned by the Consolidated, and can ultimately be combined with that plant.

The Kitty mine, in the West Cardin district, was recently combined with the Jack & Jill mine, having been bought for $125,000. This 80-acre tract has not been worked much.

The Mary M. float plant was built on the Kitty lease by Charles Neal, manager of the Domada and was put into operation about two months ago.

The Domada Mining Co. produced more than 4500 tons of zinc concentrates and about 500 tons of lead during 1928. This production, combined with the output of the Consolidated, would give the Consolidated a larger production of ore than the Eagle Picher Lead Co. of which the Consolidated is a subsidiary, and would make the Consolidated the third largest producer of the Joplin district. The Consolidated, with the new additions now has 12 active plants.

Waxes Poetic Over Favorite Tobacco

"A Prescription"

Have you ever noticed right after a meal
How tired and lazy
you always feel?
I'm telling you folks
it isn't a joke,
It will freshen you up
if you try a good smoke.
But whatever you do
these lines you must heed,
There's a certain tobacco
of course, that you need.
It's packed in a tin,
the tin's colored blue.
Not only the smoking
but the chewing kind too.
Of course if you never
are bothered this way,
Just keep the prescription
for some other day.
Ask for tobacco,
the best that's on earth;
To shorten the story,
just call it "Edgeworth."

FOREIGN COMMENT ON OBREGON'S DEATH

London Post Says Assassination
Of Mexican Is Outgrowth of Religious Dispute.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch
and New York World.

Copyright, 1928, by the Press and Publishing Co., Inc., New York

LONDON, July 19.—The Morning Post attributes Gen. Obregon's assassination to the religious controversy in Mexico.

"Under the confused turmoil and bloodshed of Mexican politics," the paper says, "two vital questions are at issue. On one hand is the question of oil, which gives the whole world a special interest in a country which is very rich in this necessity of modern civilization, and where a battle between the rival interests is carried on relentlessly in a land where squeamishness in method is unknown.

"On the other hand, ever since the days of Cortez, the question of religion has been paramount in Mexican politics. Recently the Mexican Government has passed legislation which is perilously

suggestive of persecution. Ninety per cent of the Mexican population

are, admittedly Roman Catholics, and the Draconian legislation has aroused in many parts a dangerous spirit, eager for reprisal.

"The immediate reasons for the murder of Gen. Obregon are still unknown, but it is probable that his assassination was connected with that war on religion, which was being unwisely waged."

The Daily Herald says: "Spasmodic revolts and assassinations

were customary under the old order, is the latest victim of the old. We believe the Mexican workers will face the situation

coolly and effectively, and that in spite of such crimes peace will be established and maintained, and that the work of social reconstruction in which Gen. Obregon was one of the leaders, will go forward.

"We would urge people here not to commit the folly of judging the Mexican people by its assassins and criminals."

JARDINE APPROVES FLORIDA
CITRUS GROWERS' ASSOCIATION

State Commissioner Predicts Similar Organizations of Potato and Vegetable Raisers.

WASHINGTON.—After several hours spent in conferring with

Florida citrus growers and shippers, Secretary Jardine has approved their plan for marketing

citrus fruits through the Florida
Citrus Growers' Clearing House

Association.
The approval carried a provision that in working out the marketing plan the operating board of the association should have its actions subject to the veto of the board of directors, which would be comprised of fruit growers. This, it was pointed out, was necessary to make the organization come under the provisions of the Capper-Volstead act governing co-operative marketing agencies.

Belief was expressed that the organization would handle 90 per cent of the fruit shipped out of Florida. The Clearing House Association will keep in touch with marketing conditions in the citrus fruit-consuming sections of the country and pass the information

along to the growers and packing houses.

Grower members of the association will contract only with packing houses which market their fruits through the clearing house

association.
Nathan Mayo, Commissioner of Agriculture for the State of Florida, predicted that similar organizations would be formed by Florida

potato and vegetable growers.

Keep Cool While Electricity does Your Cooking and Your Housework

There's nothing more tiresome than sweeping your rugs in this hot weather. Avoid home. You can own one for a down payment as low as $2.

Electric Cooker

Cooks an entire meal from a lamp socket.
Boils, bakes, stews—and during most of the time it cooks the current is turned off.
It is a fireless cooker, heated by electricity.
It will keep food warm for several hours.
Ideal to take on picnics—prepare the food at home, and pack the cooker in your car, with the food inside.

Cooking Units

This is a wonderful hot weather convenience. Boils, fries, stews, bakes just like an electric range. Its oven is large enough for a good size roast, a chicken and it will make two dozen biscuits
at a time. Keep cool while cooking—the heat goes into the oven, not into the air around you.

$8<sup>25</sup> to $8<sup>70</sup>

Electric Irons

Thousands of St. Louis women have found that an extra electric iron around the house is a real convenience, especially in this hot weather. Keep one in the laundry or kitchen, the other upstairs. In our stores you will find irons made by all leading manufacturers, all fully guaranteed.

$4<sup>95</sup> to $8<sup>80</sup>

Washing Machines

Your electric washer will do the work while you rest. When night comes you'll be refreshed and comfortable, ready to enjoy driving into the cool out-of-doors.
Clothes washed on the electric washer
look better and wear longer too. Electricity
will do two hours washing for only a penny,
in the average St. Louis home. You can own the Eden or Whirlpool Washer for a down payment as low as $5.

Electric Ranges

An electric range eliminates the unpleasant things about cooking. It is cool, because the heat goes into the cooking—not into the kitchen. It is convenient—you start the "fire"
by a turn of a switch: no matches, no carrying in wood or coal. The penetrating heat cooks roasts deliciously, retaining the rich flavorful juices. You owe it to yourself to learn the facts about the electric range—we will gladly show you its advantages.

Electric Grills

No need to drudge in a sweltering kitchen
when you put the electric grill to work. Put it on your dining table, and sit down while it makes chops, cutlets, creamed chicken or any other of a dozen delicacies.

CREVE COEUR FARE ROW TO STATE BOARD

Riders File Protest With Service
 Body Against Two 8-Cent Charges.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 19.—A complaint against fares charged by the St. Louis Public Service Co. on its Creve Coeur line, including a second fare zone for points west of Woodson road, was filed with the State Public Service Commission yesterday by the Lake Line Patrons' Association and residents of Overland, St. Louis County. The complaint was filed on behalf of about 500 car riders, it was stated. The present fare is 8 cents from the St. Louis limits to Woodson road, and an additional 8-cent fare between Woodson road and points west. The application states approximately 19,000 persons reside in that part of the Overland district west of the Woodson road, and that the division point there for fares is unreasonable and discriminatory.

It is alleged the company has broken an obligation assumed in contracts by which it acquired the land for its right-of-way. The contract provision quoted is that the company would sell commutation books good for 40 rides between the city limits and Penn Farm for $2. The contract also provided a 5-cent fare from the city limits to Woodson road and an additional 5 cents for points west of Woodson road. The company now is refusing to sell the commutation books and thereby is violating a contract obligation, the complaint alleged.

The commission was requested to assume jurisdiction and make such orders as were necessary to eliminate the alleged discriminations and require compliance with contract obligations.

EARTH SHOCKS RECORDED

HERE AND IN WASHINGTON
 St. Louis U. Seismologist Estimates
 Distance Centered 3140 Miles Away.

Severe earth shocks at an estimated distance of 3140 miles from St. Louis were recorded on the seismograph at St. Louis University yesterday. The Rev. J. A. Maciel, seismologist, said the shocks probably occurred in Western South America, perhaps in Peru. The shocks, starting at 1:13 p. m., continued for more than two hours.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—A "very severe" earthquake, estimated to have occurred about 3000 miles from Washington in a southerly direction, probably in South America, was recorded yesterday on the Georgetown University seismograph. Director Toudert said the disturbance began at 2:12 p. m. and lasted more than three hours.

By the Associated Press.
 FAENZA, Italy, July 19.—What was described as a terrific earthquake was registered last night at the observatory of Raphael Bandanti. It lasted two hours. The center of the disturbance was about 6275 miles distant. The shocks were reported to be continuing.

POLICEMAN SAVES BABY FROM THREE-STORY FALL

Child Had Crawled to Window Sill
 While Mother Slept

Pushing their way through a crowd in front of 2014 Franklin avenue yesterday afternoon, Patrolmen William Johnson and Wesley Oliver discovered the cause of the excitement was a 1-year-old boy, teetering on the edge of a third floor window sill.

While Patrolman Oliver stood directly under the window, to attempt to catch the child in the event it fell, Patrolman Johnson ran upstairs. The door to the room was closed, but the policeman forced it open and snatched the baby from the window sill.

The child was Arthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Padde, of East address. His mother was asleep on a bed beside the window. Arthur had been napping with his mother, but woke up and crawled on the sill of the unsecured window.

By the Associated Press.
 SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 19.—Stewart Slayton, 27 years old, of Tully, N. Y., was killed and Miss Genevieve Bullion, 20, of Minon, and Clarence O. Snyder of Boysens Bay, pilot, were seriously injured last night when an airplane crashed on a farm near here.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS BEGIN RIFLE TRAINING

First Battalion at Training Camp to Start Work on Range Monday.

The first battalion of the Citizens' Military Training Camp regiment at Jefferson Barracks today began preliminary rifle practice on the parade ground in preparation for actual firing on the rifle range Monday. The instruction which began today consists of coaching in sighting, proper position of the rifle, the trigger squeeze and other elements of rifle work.

From a group of students now being coached will be selected a team to be sent to the national rifle matches at Camp Perry, O., later in the summer.

The boxing and wrestling tournaments are under way for the determination of a camp champion. First Lieutenant Hamilton of the Fifty-second Infantry, St. Joseph, Mo., is referee for wrestling, and Private Figueroa, Sixth Infantry, boxing and wrestling champion of the Sixth Corps Area, is referee for boxing.

Each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon a period is devoted to compulsory swimming instruction. Of the 1400 students in the camp, 167 cannot swim. The goal is to make every man a swimmer by the close of the camp.

OPERATORS TO DISCUSS MEANS AGAINST OIL OVERPRODUCTION

Leaders of Industry Reported to Have Agreed to Meet

NEW YORK, July 19.—The New York Times says that leaders of the oil industry have set July 30 as the tentative date for a meeting of oil company executives to discuss a proposed international conference on means to prevent further overproduction of oil.

The preliminary conference, it is hoped, will compose conflicting views reported among heads of large companies regarding the international meeting. These differences of opinion have aroused fears that only a few delegates would attend the world conference, unless a general agreement on some of its details were reached in advance.

The plan to bring the oil producers of the world together had its origin in the recently signed truce between the Standard Oil Co. of New York and the Royal Dutch Shell interests over Soviet oil.

 John Goetzl, 35 years old of 3514 St. Ann avenue, Normandy, a non-union chauffeur for the Washington Cleaning & Dyeing Co., was shot in the left wrist yesterday during a quarrel in a garage at 5500 Easton avenue, where he had stopped to have his truck serviced. He told police his assailant was Edward Clark, known as "Toots," business agent for the cleaners' and dyers' union. Clark had driven into the garage, Goetzl said, and after a short conversation with him had got a pistol from his machine and fired point blank at Goetzl, who did not tell police the nature of the conversation. The police are looking for Clark.

BARRED FOR WRITING OF MATCHES AT WIMBLEDON

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, July 19.—Charged with violating the amateur rules of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, William T. Tilden, Philadelphia veteran of the courts, was dropped from the American Davis Cup team today.

This development came as a result of Tilden's newspaper syndicate articles on the British tennis championship match at Wimbledon, in which he took part. The dismissal of Tilden from the team was made by order of the Advisory Committee of the United States Association, which cabled its decision from New York after the alleged violation of rules had been brought to its attention by letters and telegrams from Dr. Sumner Hardy, president of the California Lawn Tennis Association.

Announcement of Tilden's dismissal was made by Joseph Wear, of Philadelphia, chairman of the American Davis Cup Committee, and was concurred in by Samuel H. Colton, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association. Wear immediately announced his own resignation, effective as soon as the American team returns home.

Colton said he would not resign now as he had at first intended, but would leave that question undecided until the Tilden case was threshed out upon his return to America. The French Tennis Federation today cabled the United States Lawn Tennis Association asking that it rescind its action in barring Tilden.

Tilden helped to soothe the ruffled feelings of the American players who threatened a general strike. George Lott announced that he would not play in the doubles, but Tilden persuaded him to agree to go on, saying: "Personalities do not count in this affair. Let's go to work to try to win the Davis cup back first," adding, "we will settle personal matters later on."

Hennessey and Hunter followed Lott in unreservedly accepting their assignments for the interzone finals and play will go ahead tomorrow as scheduled.

Wear announced this afternoon that Lott would play in the doubles and the inter-zone competition would go on as rearranged after the summary retirement of Tilden.

Finally it was announced that G. de Stefani, second ranking Italian, would meet Francis T. Hunter in one singles encounter tomorrow with Baron H. L. de Morpurgo pitted against John Hennessey in the other. In the doubles of Saturday Lott and Hennessey will meet de Morpurgo and P. Gaslini. The closing singles matches on Sunday will find de Morpurgo matched with Hunter and de Stefani with Hennessey.

Effect on U. S. Team.
Previously it had been planned to play Tilden and Lott in the singles and Lott and Hennessey in the doubles in the interzone play against Italy opening tomorrow. With Tilden off the team America may not even reach the challenge round in Davis Cup competition this year.

The Italians, led by de Morpurgo, eliminated such strong teams as Australia, Great Britain and Czechoslovakia in European zone play, and with Tilden on the side-lines, the Americans may find de Morpurgo and his teammates a bit too much for them.

Has Not Lost a Match.
In de Morpurgo the Americans will meet the first man worthy of their steel in this year's competition. The Italian ace has not lost a singles match in five European zone ties, and has been the most important factor in Italy's four doubles victories. At his own suggestion as a sportsmanlike test de Morpurgo challenged Tilden to a private match after the deposition order and was beaten in three straight sets.

The Italian player, P. Gaslini, is comparatively an unknown. Up to the zone final when he was first substituted for G. de Stefani, second ranking Italian player, Gaslini

NEGRO BOY WINS TUBERCULOSIS DAY MARATHON

By GERALD HOLLAND,
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, July 19.—Tom Kye, 15-year-old Negro boy, won the annual Tuberculosis day marathon, finishing about 20 yards ahead of William Ohle, who finished second. Leo Florjanski was third. The distance of the race was 2.9 miles. The time of the winner was 14 minutes, 16.4 seconds.

The order of the finish follows: Tom Kye, Pine Street Y. M. C. A., first. Time, 14:16.4-5.

Wm. Ohle, University, second. Time, 14:26.

Leo Florjanski, Polish Falcons, third. Time, 14:37.1-5.

Don Humphrey, Wood River, Ill., fourth.

Arthur Schneider, St. Charles, fifth.

John Keefe Kuciejski, Polish Falcons, sixth.

Kye, who lives at 3808 Enright avenue and represents the Pine Street Y. M. C. A., was an outsider as far as the favorites to win were concerned. He reported for practice at Fairground only once, and then apparently was too tired to bother much about training, and quit before the session was over. He wasn't a bit tired this afternoon and, according to officials who followed the race, he led most of the way.

Despite the intense heat, most of the boys finished in good condition and those near exhaustion were quickly revived with water. There were several other Negro runners in the race, by Kye was the only one to finish among the first seven.

The first seven runners were awarded loving cups, and the first 75 to finish were given medals. Two hundred and sixty boys entered the event.

Miss Florence Wright of the Headlight Athletic Club, who holds the women's national championship at 220 yards, won the 100-yard dash for the city championship here in the first event of the athletic program preceding the Tuberculosis day baseball game between the Cardinals and the Phillies.

Anna Maguire of the Pacific A. C. was second and Violet Braun, another member of the Headlight A. C., was third. The time of the winner was 12 seconds.

Miss Wright had won the first heat of the dash without much difficulty. Her time in that heat was 12.2-5 seconds. Anna Maguire won the second heat in 12.1-5 seconds.

In the final, Anna Maguire took the lead at the start but a fine sprint near the finish enabled Miss Wright to break the tape. Irene Maguire, a sister of Anna, took third place in the first heat but was unable to place in the final.

Irene and Anna Maguire are members of Catherine Maguire, a sister of the American Olympic team.

BABE RUTH HITS TWO HOME RUNS; NOW HAS 38
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 19.—Supported by Babe Ruth's thirty-seventh and thirty-eighth home runs, Herb Pennock and Wiley Moore turned back the White Sox, 6 to 4, here today in the second game of the series. Alphonse Thomas pitched well with the exception of his inability to deal with Ruth.

Ruth's two drives put him into a lead of 7 games, 23 days and eight home runs over his record pace of 1927, when he hit 60 to-top his own previous mark by one. This is the greatest advantage the Bambino ever has enjoyed at any stage of his career over an earlier record season, except in 1920, when he ran far ahead of his 1919 mark through most of the campaign while hitting the major league mark from 23 to 54.

had played only in the doubles. Against Czecho-Slovakia he lost his first singles match and failed to do well in the doubles, but came through with the deciding victory.

With Tilden's passing from the team he captained went virtually America's last chance of regaining this year at least the historic tennis trophy which passed into the hands of France's "three masters"—Henri Cochet, Rene Lacoste and Jean Borotra—at Germantown last year.

Deposing of the American veteran came just as the draw in the heroine finals was about to be made.

"Where is Tilden?" asked Pierre Gillou, president of the French Davis cup committee. "We can't find him with the draw unless he

"Tilden no longer is captain of the American team," replied Wear. This announcement staggered French officers of the match. Dramatically, Tilden entered the room at this point and a spontaneous burst of cheering from French Italians and Americans greeted him.

Baron de Morsperg, mainstay of the Italian team, who was expected to provide Tilden with his most serious opposition in the interzone finals, rushed over to console the big American.

"I'm sorry, Bill," he said. "This takes all the fun out of it."

Amid impressive silence, Weaver read the following statement:

"The Amateur Rules Committee of the Davis Cup Committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association having preferred charges against William T. Tilden II. for having violated the amateur rules by writing current newspaper articles for pay or consideration concerning the Wimbledon tournament in which he was a competitor, and whereas it would be improper to retain as a member of the American Davis cup team any player against whom such charges are pending, the United States Lawn Tennis Association has decided to withdraw Tilden from Davis cup competition."

The statement was signed by Collom.

Pandemonium broke and it was several moments before Gillico, the presiding officer, could obtain silence.

Thereupon, Tilden, raising his racket hand above his head, said: "I also have a statement to make."

But before he started reading from his notes he cried passionately:

"I refute all charges. We will win the Davis cup yet. I hereby apply for a job of training American Davis cup members for the

Then evidently laboring under deep emotion he read the following statement:

"I deny the charge of intent to violate either the letter or the spirit of the amateur rule of the United States Lawn Tennis Association and state unreservedly that any articles which I wrote during the Wimbledon tournament were to the best of my knowledge and belief."

"I consider that this is a deliberate misinterpretation of my articles and an attempt to embarrass President Collopi and Chairman Wear. Two of the three disputed articles were cut before they were

"It seems very strange that the same article was so much worse after Wear and Colloom were two days at sea. I deeply regret that

Wear and Mr. Callom as well as to the team, but I am glad to say that all these gentlemen feel that there is no intent on my part to evade or violate the rule. Once more the gentlemen in the United States are interpreting my motives and once more incorrectly. I reiterate. I have not to the best of my knowledge violated the spirit or the letter of the rule.

Cheers greeted Tilden's offer to place himself at the disposition of the other members of the American team over which he has ruled for the past six months.

As the excitement reached its height, Frank Hunter, George Lott, John Hennesey and Wilbur Coen gathered about their deposed captain while Bill smiled sadly.

Meanwhile, Wear drafted the following cable addressed to the United States Lawn Tennis Association at New York:

"I hereby tender my resignation

OUTDOOR RING

Five special bouts, running the full scale of weights, from flyweight to heavyweight, will feature an outdoor boxing show at the Peoples Motorbus arena at Grand and Pine street, tonight.

Although the heavyweights affair, between John Schwab and Jack Day will probably result in a draw, and harder punches, the real class of the card appears to be the lightweight bout between Jake Grassewick of East St. Louis and Al. White of the Motorbus A. C. There is also promise of action in the bantamweight match between Tommy Wade of the 138th Infantry and Joe Ghonouly of the Florio Olympian A. C. They have met once before when Ghonouly's greater experience enabled him to gain the point verdict.

Frank and Joe Doxey, brothers, who represent the Motorbus team, will mix with Joe Herbst, Jr. and Peevoo Terry respectively. The latter two represent the Florio Olympians.

The complete card is as follows:

CAPTAIN TILDEN VIOLATION OF PLAYER-WRITER RULE ANNOUNCED AS REASON BY WEAR, CHAIRMAN OF BODY

had played only in the doubles, against Czechoslovakia he lost his first singles match and failed to do well in the doubles, but came through with the deciding victory in his second singles encounter.

With Tilden's passing from the team he capitulated went virtually America's last chance of regaining this year at least the historic Davis trophy which passed into the hands of France's "three musketeers"—Henri Cochet, Rene Lacoste and Jean Borotra—at Germetown last year.

Deposing of the American veteran came just as the draw in the interzone finals was about to be made.

"Where is Tilden?" asked Pierre Gillou, president of the French tennis cup committee. "We can't go on with the draw unless the American captain is present."

"Tilden no longer is captain of the American team," replied Wear, this announcement staggered French officers of the match.

Dramatically, Tilden entered the room at this point and a spontaneous burst of cheering from French, Italians and Americans greeted him.

Baron de Morpurgo, mainstay of the Italian team, who was expected to provide Tilden with his most serious opposition in the interzone finals, rushed over to console the big American.

"I'm sorry, Bill," he said. "This takes all the fun out of it."

Amid impressive silence, Wear read the following statement:

"The Amateur Rules Committee of the Davis Cup Tennis Association having preferred charges against William T. Tilden II. for having violated the amateur rules by writing, current newspaper articles for pay, consideration concerning the Wimbledon tournament in which he was a competitor, and where as it would be improper to retain as a member of the American Davis cup team any player against whom such charges are pending, the United States Lawn Tennis Association has decided to withdraw Tilden from Davis cup competition."

The statement was signed by Colom.

Pandemonium broke and it was several moments before Gillou, the presiding officer, could obtain silence.

Thereupon, Tilden, raising his right hand above his head, said: "I also have a statement to make."

But before he started reading from his notes he cried passionately:

"I refute all charges. We will win the Davis cup yet. I hereby apply for a job of training American Davis cup members for the coming matches ahead."

Then evidently laboring under deep emotion he read the following statement:

"I deny the charge of intent to violate either the letter or the spirit of the amateur rule of the United States Lawn Tennis Association and state unreservedly that any articles which I wrote during the Wimbledon tournament were to the best of my knowledge straight comment articles and in no way an attempt to contemporaneously report a tournament in which I was a competitor. The articles, of course, are a matter of record."

"I consider that this is a deliberate violation of the spirit or the letter of the amateur rule. I have offered my services to Mr. Wear for practice for the team until the change round."

Chairs greeted Tilden's offer to place himself at the disposition of the other members of the American team over which he has ruled for the past six months.

"Give le grand Bill," Frenchmen waved.

"That's the right spirit," said Gillou to Tilden, as he shook him warmly by the hand.

As the excitement reached its height, Frank Hunter, George Lott, Hennessey and Wilbur Coen gathered about their deposed captain while Bill smiled radiantly.

Meanwhile, Wear drafted the following cable to the United States Lawn Tennis Association at New York:

"I hereby tender my resignation as chairman of the Davis Cup committee to take effect immediately upon arrival in the United States."

Francis Stephens was so hard pressed by Dan Hochstadt in the 50-yard free style event which featured the swimming meet at the Coliseum last night that he was forced to smash the Western A. A. U. record to win. His time was 25 seconds. Edward Blomke was third. The small but very clever team representing the Lorelei pool, coached by Bud Westhaus, gave the all-star Coliseum team spirited competition in every event save the diving. Hochstadt, the Lorelei dash man, defeated Frank Hutchison of the Coliseum in the 250-yard event and Miss Pete Keep of the Lorelei won the women's 50-yard dash from Arvilla Ressler. All other first places went to Ed Manley's Coliseum swimmers.

statement issued by that body announced today.

Evidence was submitted, in the form of newspaper articles appearing in the New York World of July 2, 6 and 8, and in the San Francisco Chronicle of July 3. These articles, Tilden II contained descriptions of current matches during the English championships being played between June 25 and July 7 at Wimbledon, the statement said.

The statement said: "They were considered a violation of that portion of the by-laws of the United States Lawn Tennis Association known as the amateur rule, which includes the following clause: "By writing for pay or a consideration, current newspaper articles covering a tournament or match in which he is entered as a competitor."

"Tilden must have understood this rule, since he promised in August, 1925, when similar charges were made, that he would abide by it strictly in the future."

President Colom of the association was notified of the action of the advisory committee while he was on the way to Paris with Chairman Wear of the Davis Cup Committee. Colom replied by radio: "Does your committee recommend suspension? Would like to interview Tilden before making decision."

The advisory committee, including members of several other committees, replied "recommending that Tilden be forthwith removed."

The formal charges covering the alleged violation, the statement said, would be presented to a special meeting of the executive committee to be called following the return of the Davis Cup squad from Europe. This apparently

TRAINER THINKS HEENEY WILL DEFEAT TUNNEY

By the Associated Press.

FAIRHAVEN, N. J., July 19.—As far as condition goes, both mental and physical, Tom Heenev, Gene Tunney's challenger, looks perfect. He is the picture of an athlete in shape. The perspiration drips off him, but he hardly draws a long breath when he finishes his workout. He seems to have the energy of a dynamo.

All this pleases Jimmy Hennessey, his trainer. Hennessey said today at the Rumson Farm camp, said he had a "hunch" that Heenev will defeat Tunney, perhaps knock him out.

"He's a better fighter than the public believes," Hennessey said. "He has shown plenty of boxing brains down here and improves every day. Why, do you know that he has been the short end in the betting in all of his fights, yet he won them."

"I never saw a boxer so quick to solve an opponent's style. If Tunney hits him with left hands, it will be in the first two or three rounds. After that, Heenev will be all wined up to Tunney. Heenev is no sucker at getting away from punches. He isn't hit nearly as often as you think. And he is a tough puncher to face for 15 rounds."

To Keep on Top of Gene.
He has been trained to keep on top of his man, and goes right back at them after the clinches. Tunney will not be able to step into Heenev often as he will be busy keeping away from Heenev's charges."

Working out in his outdoor ring, in face of stifling heat, the challenger gave one of the most impressive performances of his training since yesterday. He stepped four spirited rounds with James J. Braddock and James J. Lawless. Critics were unanimous in the opinion that he never looked better. There was no attempt at flashy boxing and little attempt at defense. Heenev went into action with the idea of forcing the fighting and he never let up. Lawless was groggy at the end of the two rounds he faced the challenger and it seems as if Heenev could have stopped him if he had desired.

Jack Dempsey will be in camp Sunday, along with James J. Corbett and Johnny Risko, to watch the challenger go through his paces. Dempsey will be the guest of Promoter Tex Rickard.

Tunney Down to 190.
By the Associated Press.

SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 19.—Dangerously near fighting weight, Gene Tunney, who will risk his world's heavyweight title against Tom Heenev, the powerful New Zealand blacksmith, just a week hence, was given a holiday today. The champion was down to 190 pounds, almost the weight he will carry when he enters the ring against Heenev, and from now on his days of strenuous preparation are few. He will probably work hard tomorrow and again next Monday.

"Long Route Won't Bother Me"—Tunney; Heenev Writes He Will Make No Plans

By GENE TUNNEY.

As Told to a Representative of the Post-Dispatch.

SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 19.—This, of course, is my first match at 15 rounds since I won the heavyweight championship, and, in fact, my first bout at that distance in several years.

In some quarters there appears doubt that I can go the distance. Writers point out that after taking the title from Jack Dempsey in 1926 in a 10-round match the only other competitor I have had was 10 more rounds against the former champion in Chicago last fall. All that is offered as evidence that I am untried over the longer distance, and, in fact, have not boxed nearly as much as I should.

I am the last person in the boxing game to assert that I have boxed often enough in the past two years. If I were able to follow my own dictates I would enter the ring at least twice a year, and, if possible, three times.

But it is silly to say that I cannot stand up for 15 rounds before the strongest opposition the ring has to offer me today.

Consider Previous Bouts.
Consider for a moment my first match with Dempsey. As the bout progressed I grew stronger, my punching became more accurate, and when the tenth round was reached only the soggy, slippery condition of the ring underfoot, due to the steady rain that made fighting precarious, kept me from sparring in the hope of scoring a knockout. The chance then, however, was not worth taking. Then, in my second match with Dempsey, if I was unable to "go the route," shouldn't I have showed it after the seventh round, when I was knocked to the canvas for the first time in my life? Instead, I was on my feet at the count of nine, quickly in control of the match, and did my best fighting thereafter. It was not until the eighth round that I scored a knockdown, and when the final gong rang in the tenth round, Dempsey was close to a knockout.

Today I am in the best condition of my career. I am stronger than ever, better trained, more confident. I will be better, if anything, in the fifteenth round next week than in the first—that is, if the match goes that far. (Copyright, 1928.)

Even had he been given credentials, it might not have meant much, in our Olympic score column. The reason is one P. Yrjola (try and pronounce it), Finland, of Decathlon fame. Based on comparative performances up to 1927, the Finn is the greatest all around athlete of all time. Study this table:

William Plankington of Milwaukee seeks to make Ohio Way.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 18.—William Woods Plankington, 21-year-old heir to $4,000,000 of the estate of his late father, announced today he would go to work as a "hunky" for a recently organized horticultural firm in New York.

He explained he wanted to make good "on his own," and that he thought he would have an opportunity to work up in the new firm.

"I chose a new firm because old firms are so conservative it probably it would take me much longer to get to the top," he said.

BARUCH OFFERS
RASKOB AID IN
SMITH CAMPAIGN

Supporter of McAdoo in 1924 Wires From Paris Services Will Be Available Middle of August.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, July 19.—John J. Raskob put aside the business of the General Motors Corporation yesterday and turned his organizing ability to the Democratic campaign.

For more than four hours he conferred with other campaign leaders on personnel, a budget, arrangements for raising money and selecting committees, closely welded to national headquarters here, which the Smith supporters are relying upon to instill unprecedented efficiency into the campaign.

At the conclusion he announced that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will be chairman of the Women's Advisory Committee, to be organized in accordance with the suggestion of Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, chairman of the women's division of the national committee.

This committee will be composed of a small group of women with political experience, representatives of various sections of the country, with offices at the national headquarters, to be opened next week in the General Motors building here. It will be active, rather than honorary in capacity, and will function with the regular advisory committee of which Senator Gerry of Rhode Island is chairman.

Committee of Eleven.

The latter announced after the conference yesterday that his committee will consist of 10 or 11 members, to which a few may be added later, selected from all parts of the country. All will accept when making tours of reconnaissance, have their offices at national headquarters, and will advise with the chairman daily. He expects to make public their names today.

The following cablegram from Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier now in Paris, was made public by Raskob:

"Congratulations. Best wishes. If desired personal services available about middle of August."

Baruch was prominent in support of William G. McAdoo in the 1924 pre-convention campaign. He will be asked to take a responsible position in the Democratic organization, Raskob said.

Raskob said that a good many business and financial leaders, who, like himself, have classified themselves heretofore as Republicans have volunteered their support to Gov. Smith.

"Any number of Republican friends of mine have congratulated me on being willing to undertake this work and said they were going to vote for Gov. Smith," he said. "Of course, they were speaking for themselves. As men in corporate life appreciate that their participation in politics is purely personal and in no way involves their corporations."

When asked for their names, Raskob demurred.

"It would be a breach of confidence," he replied. "But I believe they will declare themselves during the campaign."

Those who conferred with Raskob yesterday were: Gerry, Senator Pittman of Nevada, chairman of the Resolutions Committee at the Houston convention; Herbert H. Lehman, chairman of the Finance Committee of the national committee; George R. Van Namee, Gov. Smith's preconvention manager and member of the New York Transit Commission; John F. Gilchrist, chairman of the Transit Commission; James J. Hoy, the Governor's manager at the 1924 convention, and Mrs. Henry Moskowitz.

They, temporarily, form the Executive Committee of the national committee and from them Raskob said several members of the Executive Committee of seven or eight will be chosen. Raskob has decided to make this committee a co-ordinating, administrative group at headquarters. All men in corporate life appreciate that their participation in politics is purely personal and in no way involves their corporations."

Supreme Court Justice Joseph M. Proskauer, one of the Governor's close advisers, called upon Raskob, but did not remain for the conference. When asked about Justice Proskauer's position, Raskob replied:

"Justice Proskauer will not be on this committee or have any part in these conferences."

He said Proskauer could not be called "out" because he had never been "in." Before the Houston convention, at which Proskauer was active as a representative of the Governor, it was reported that he would resign from the bench in order to participate openly in the campaign.

Centralization of Control.

The further centralization of control of the Democratic organization was forecast yesterday by the announcement of Senator Tydings of Maryland, chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, that the headquarters of his committee will be located in New York.

"That is most welcome to us," Raskob said. He had met during the morning with Tydings and Senator Hawes of Missouri, the Western manager of the senatorial committee.

Tydings pointed out that the Democrats need only one more State to control the Senate.

"We will get more than that," he added. "I see claims are made by Republican leaders that Maryland will go Republican this fall. Maryland can't go Republican with Al Smith at the head of the ticket. Neither can any of the Southern States go Republican. You hear about Southern Democrats saying they are going to vote for Hoover, but when election day comes around they won't be able to do it."

Smith Unconcerned Over Proposed Party Bolt in Texas.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 19.—Gov. Smith has it very clear that he intends to maintain a comfortable detachment from his party's internal affairs for the present. Reports that several hundred Texas Democrats had caucused to oppose him because of his westward tilt the Governor quite undisturbed.

"Texas?" he said when interrogators sought his reaction on the subject. "I don't know anything about it. That's something for the Democratic National Committee to worry about."

For some time Smith will move sedately apart from mere party activity.

John J. Raskob, chairman of the National Committee, is convinced, is thoroughly equipped to deal with such schisms as developed in Texas.

Moreover, the Governor and his advisers feel certain that the Republicans, facing defections because of the farm revolt, have a far more serious problem to solve.

The formal notification of nomination will take place at night so that Gov. Smith, in delivering his speech of acceptance, may have the advantage of a nationwide radio hookup. The expectation here is that the ceremony will take place either Aug. 18 or 19, five days after the notification of Herbert Hoover and two nights before that of Senator Curtis—of Aug. 23.

Senators Tydings of Maryland and Hawes of Missouri were the Governor's guests at the Executive Mansion today. They came here after their conference with J. J. Raskob in New York. Both are members of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee.

BAKER URGES THAT HORTON LICENSE INQUIRY BE PUSHED

Attorney-General Also Investigating Doctor's Purported $250 Solicitation.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, July 19.—Gov. Baker has directed the State Board of Pharmacy to press the case it instituted against Dr. Ray B. Horton, who is charged with having solicited and collected $250 from an applicant for a pharmacist's license, in return for Horton's purported political influence with the board. The Governor told the board to make an example of the case.

Attorney-General Shertel also is investigating the case. He said today that Assistant Attorney General Loran would be sent to Moneett, where the alleged solicitation and collection took place, to confer with the Prosecuting Attorney of Barry County on the filing of a criminal proceeding.

This is the second appearance of Horton as a defendant in cases involving solicitation of money for supposed political influence with State boards. The State Board of Health revoked Horton's license as a physician a year ago, for fraud in the manner in which it was obtained. Circuit Judge Hall of St. Louis restored Horton's license, upon a review of the board's action. The board appealed to the Supreme Court, where the case is pending.

$90 OBTAINED ON WORTHLESS CHECKS BY MAN AND WOMAN

Public Service Conductor's Wife One Victim; Woman Gets $75 on Three.

A man who had made the acquaintance of Clinton R. Parks, Public Service Co. conductor, by calling at the Parks home at 5154 Eiler avenue and representing himself as from the same town, yesterday persuaded Mrs. Parks to give him $15 in exchange for a worthless check.

Three of 150 blank checks stolen on July 3 from the Sel-Kilo Chemical Co. at 4378 Olive street, were forged and cashed yesterday by a young woman in shops in the vicinity of Grand boulevard and Florissant avenue. Each was for $25.

Masonic Picnic July 29. METROPOLIS, Ill., July 19.—Masons and their families from all over Southern Illinois will hold their annual picnic at Fort Massac State Park here Sunday, July 29. It is thought that by that date the slab on Route 145, from the end of Route 1 to the entrance of the park, will be opened to traffic. The last concrete at the junction of the two routes was poured Monday.

Claims Dieting to Reduce Shortens Many Women's Lives

Health Restored—Sanitariums Filled With Underweight, Nerve-Shattered Women

Doctors are just about distracted with women who have taken drastic steps to reduce weight. Instead of improving their appearance, these foolish women only succeeded in losing their physical charm, their health and vitality.

A woman who diets to get thin—or takes harmful drugs, looks years older with those tell-tale wrinkles around the eyes, those ugly hollows in cheeks and neck—to say nothing of her spindly legs and scrawny figure.

Underweight means vitality under part, strength and energy below normal. Nerves become shaky—a happy disposition is a thing of the past! McCoy's tablets are not only considered the world's great flesh producers, but they help to restore good health and bring loads of vitality and energy. See what a great asset—a superbly built figure will be to your appearance. Enjoy perfect health—the birthright of every woman.

One woman gained 10 pounds in 5 weeks, according to her own doctor. McCoy does not merely promise—she gives you this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty-cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 3 One-Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 10 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The same McCoy's God Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at Wolf-Wilson Drug Stores or any drug store in America.

PART THREE.

HOOVER GETS DIVERSE VIEWS ON FARM RELIEF

Probably Will Not Advance Any Specific Agricultural Plan in His Acceptance Speech.

WANTS TO STUDY PROBLEM FURTHER

Likely to Present His Views in One of His Iowa Addresses—To Reach Home Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.
ABOARD HOOVER TRAIN, EN ROUTE TO PALO ALTO, Cal., July 19.—Friends who have conferred with Herbert Hoover during his westward journey to California have gained the impression that the Republican presidential nominee does not intend to advance any specific plan of farm relief in his acceptance speech at Palo Alto next month.

These same friends declare, however, that Hoover is thoroughly alive to the fact that the condition of agriculture presents a problem which calls for solution, and that he will pledge himself to make a thorough-going survey of the whole situation, and to dedicate his best efforts to the formulation of a practical plan of aid.

Details of a specific plan very likely will be left for further study with the possibility that as the campaign progresses proposals will be outlined, with the first of these probably touching upon when the nominee speaks at his old home at West Branch, Ia., late next month.

Nebraska Leaders Disagree.
As he has traveled across the continent during the last five days, Hoover has received somewhat conflicting views from leaders in the farm movement as to just what the situation in the Corn Belt really is as it bears on his own political fortunes and those of his party.

Nowhere was this more pronounced than in Nebraska, where Gov. Adam McMullen insisted that only the equalization fee, or its equivalent, would satisfy the farmers and keep them in the Republican ranks in November. Charles A. McCloud, Republican National Committee member from that State, and other political leaders declared that the equalization fee principle was out and that there was no doubt about Nebraska giving a substantial majority for the Hoover-Curtis ticket.

McMullen and Houston Plank, Describing the Republican farm platform plank as a "mere mass of words," McMullen said the Democratic plank was "specific and definite in setting out the provisions of the McNary-Haugen measure," equalization fee and all. He explained that he knew what that plank meant because he helped draw it. Asked whether he would support Hoover in the coming campaign, McMullen said he was like a mortgage on the farm that followed the land.

"I am going to follow this issue," he declared. "It is the real national issue. Prohibition is not an issue in Nebraska. Prohibition is here and is an accomplished fact. The Secretary recognizes the need of something to be done in relation to the surplus and no doubt he will explain it in his acceptance speech."

McMullen parried a question as to whether he thought Nebraska would go for Hoover by saying that the balance of power was in the hands of the farmers.

Confers With Party Leaders.
As his train sped through the Rockies today, Hoover continued his conferences with political leaders, meeting a delegation from Utah and having as his guest on his private car Gov. Fred B. Balgord of Nevada, who rode across the state with him.

These conferences and rear platform appearances at a large number of cities have prevented Hoover from continuing his work on his acceptance speech, but he is expected to devote much of his time next week to this task, although he will hold conferences with party leaders from the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain states and also will give some time to clearing up certain matters on the Pacific Coast which he desires to personally attend to before the President's Secretary.

Mrs. Hoover in Seclusion.
Because of the death of Mrs. Hoover's father, C. D. Henry, all plans for homecoming celebrations at San Francisco and Palo Alto tomorrow have been abandoned. The special train will go from Oakland across the Danaher Bridge to San Francisco and then proceed directly southward to Leland Stan-

HOOVER GETS DIVERSE VIEWS
ON FARM RELIEF

Probably Will Not Advance Any Specific Agricultural Plan in His Acceptance Speech.

WANTS TO STUDY
PROBLEM FURTHER

Likely to Present His Views
in One of His Iowa Addresses—To Reach Home Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.
ABOARD HOOVER TRAIN, EN ROUTE TO PALO ALTO, Cal., July 19.—Friends who have conferred with Herbert Hoover during his westward journey to California
have gained the impression that the Republican presidential nominee
does not intend to advance any specific plan of farm relief in his acceptance speech at Palo Alto next month.

These same friends declare, however, that Hoover is thoroughly alive to the fact that the condition of agriculture presents a problem which calls for solution, and that he will pledge himself to make a thorough-going survey of the whole situation, and to the formulation of a practical plan of aid.

Details of a specific plan very likely will be left for further study with the possibility that as the campaign progresses proposals will be outlined, with the first of these probably touched upon when the nominee speaks at his old home at West Branch, Ia., late next month.

Nebraska Leaders Disagree.
As he has traveled across the continent during the last five days,
Hoover has received somewhat differing views from leaders in the farm movement as to just what the situation in the Corn Belt really is as it bears on his own political fortunes and those of his party.

Nowhere was this more pronounced than in Nebraska, where Gov. Adam McMullen insisted that only the equalization fee, or its equivalent, would satisfy the farmers and keep them in the Republican ranks in November. Charles A.
McCloud, Republican National Committee man from that State, and other political leaders declared that the equalization fee principle
was out and that there was no doubt about Nebraska giving a substantial majority for the Hoover-Curtis ticket.

McMullen and Houston Plank.
Describing the Republican farm platform plank as a "mere mass of words," McMullen said the Democratic plank was "specific and definite in setting out the provisions of the McNary-Haugen measure," equalization fee and all. He explained that he knew what that plank meant because he helped draw it. Asked whether he would support Hoover in the coming campaign, McMullen said he was like a mortgage on the farm that followed the land.

"I am going to follow this issue,"
he declared. "It is the real national issue. Prohibition is not an issue in Nebraska. Prohibition is here and is an accomplished fact. The something to be done in relation to the surplus and no doubt he will explain it in his acceptance
speech."

McMullen parried a question as to whether he thought Nebraska
would go for Hoover by saying that the balance of power was in the hands of the farmers.

Confers With Party Leaders.
As his train sped through the Rockies today, Hoover continued
his conferences with political leaders, meeting a delegation from Utah and having as his guest on his private car Gov. Fred B. Ballard of Nevada, who rode across the state with him.

These conferences and rear platform appearances at a large number of cities have prevented Hoover from continuing his work on his acceptance speech, but he is expected to devote much of his time
next week to this task, although he will hold conferences
with party leaders from the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain states
and also will give some time to clearing up certain matters on the Pacific Coast which he desires to personally attend to before the President relieves him of his duties as Commerce Secretary.

Mrs. Hoover in Seclusion.
Because of the death of Mrs.
Hoover's father, C. D. Henry, all plans for homecoming celebrations
at San Francisco and Palo Alto tomorrow have been abandoned. The special train will go from Oakland across the Humboldt Bridge to San Francisco and then proceed directly southward to Leland Stan-

DEATH DISCLOSES
NAME OF BOUNTIFUL
"JEDEDIAH TINGLE"

Benefactor of Writers, Poets
and Children Was William E. Harmon of New York.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 19.—The
New York Times says "Jedediah Tingle," mysterious philanthropist whose benefactions lightened the care of writers, poets, unsung heroes and poor children for many years, has been disclosed as William E. Harmon, retired real estate operator and philanthropist, who died Sunday at his summer
home in Southampton, Conn.

Many of "Jedediah Tingle's" beneficiaries have wondered as to his identity. The Children's Aid Society had long received contributions from him, carrying on correspondence through a Brooklyn
banking address and making no effort to solve the mystery. Only last Tuesday a gift of $500 was announced to be distributed as prizes, in the form of savings accounts, to children of good character among those spending vacations in the society's eight summer camps.

At one time he announced publicly, over his assumed name, that he was carrying on the "eternal mission" of his great-grandfather,
whose name he had taken, "to bring smiles and tender thoughts to the great in heart in high and low places, to comfort and cheer those who do exceptional things or suffer."

Under his own name he established and endowed the Harmon Foundation for philanthropic purposes, with which his son, W.
Burke Harmon, is identified.

KING AND PRESIDENT OPEN TUNNEL THROUGH PYRENEES

Alfonso of Spain and Doumergue of France Attend Celebration at Canfranc.

By the Associated Press.
CANFRANC, Spain, July 19.—
President Doumergue of France and King Alfonso XIII of Spain
yesterday opened the first railway tunnel connecting their countries through the Pyrenees.

They met here on the Spanish side of the five-mile tunnel. With them were the French Ambassador at Madrid and the Spanish Ambassador at Paris and a distinguished company of Frenchmen and Spaniards.

All lunched at Alfonso's guests in the great dining hall at Canfranc station, which was gay with flags.
Military music was provided for the occasion. The food served at the luncheon was carried by special train from Madrid and is said to have cost $25 a cover. There were 250 persons present. After the luncheon, at which complimentary speeches were made, the two parties boarded a train on which Dou-
mergue was host to Alfonso.

At Forges d'Abel army was pledged once more, after which the two Governments departed for their respective capitals.

115 Drownings in Silesia.
BERLIN, July 19.—A total of 115 drownings has been reported from the Rhine province of Silesia
since the start of the heat wave.
The heat shows signs of breaking.
Sixty bathers were drowned in the middle Rhine district of the province and of these 20 were residents of Cologne.

ford University, where Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will attend the funeral of Mr. Henry during the afternoon at the university chapel.

At every stop the special train makes Mrs. Hoover receives messages of condolence from friends and those in official life. Among these was a message from the President and Mrs. Coolidge. Mrs.
Hoover will spend the night of her father and she will remain
in seclusion in her compartment
until she reaches home.

To Spend Three Days in Iowa.
After the funeral services and interment at Palo Alto, the Hoov-ers will spend the next three days quietly at home, probably denying themselves to callers, except most intimate friends, until early next week.

While the date for the homecoming celebration at San Francisco is yet to be fixed, it probably will be held after the notification ceremonies Aug. 11, perhaps just before Hoover starts eastward for his old Iowa home
by way of Los Angeles and Lib-erque, N. M. He will be honored at a reception at Los Angeles and also at Cedar Rapids, Ia. He plans now to spend three days in Iowa, two at Cedar Rapids and one at West Branch, but the time
has not yet been definitely fixed.

Speaks at Ogden.
A fairly large crowd greeted Hoover at Ogden when his train arrived at 9:20 a. m. He made the quickest speech of his tour there, expressing his appreciation of the welcome accorded him.

"I am glad to get back into my own country here in the West," he said. "I have no political speech to make at this time, but I do want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for this tribute."

As the candidate appeared on the rear platform with Representative Tilgan of Connecticut, Republican leader of the House of Representatives, someone in the crowd yelled:
"Eight years in the White House."
"That's about right," Tilgan said
as a broad smile broke over Hoover's face.

WHY NOBILE WAS FIRST PICKED UP
BY RESCUE PLANE

Lundborg Had Orders to Save Injured, and General Was Most Valuable to Aid Further Search.

CECCIONI HEAVIER,
HARDER TO RESCUE

Besides Swedish Flyer Regarded the Condition of Commander of the Italia
as Serious.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, July 19.—All the rescued members of the Italia expedition to Italy immediately, in conformity with instructions from Premier Mussolini. The Premier has given orders to all the members of the expedition to refrain from all messages, declarations and interviews.

The base ship, Citta di Milano,
will transport the rescued men to Narvik, Norway, and will then return to Kings Bay to aid in further search for the six men carried off in the bag of the Italia.

By the Associated Press.
STOCKHOLM, July 19.—Gen.
Noble, leader of the Italia expedition, was rescued from the Arctic ice before his companions because all the circumstances, including the General's condition and his knowledge of the situation, made it advisable to rescue him first.
His Swedish rescuers have explained.

Capt. Tornberg, leader of the Swedish Spitzbergen expedition, referring to the rescue of Noble on June 24 by Lieut. Einar Lundborg, said Lundborg had orders to take off one of the wounded members of the Noble party, which one hav-
nberg, however, impressed on Lundberg the desirability of saving Nobile first in order that he might assist them with information which would be invaluable in rescuing
the other survivors.

Lundborg declared that he considered Noble's condition very serious, and, as conveying Natale Ceccioni, the other injured man,
who was much heavier, to the landing place would have taken more time, he thought it better to take Noble instead of Ceccioni. The latter, in the meantime, was carried to the landing stage to await Lundborg's return.

It was on this return flight that Lundborg's plane upset in landing and he was himself stranded with the marooned men.

The Swedish Spitzbergen Relief Expedition has been ordered to return to Stockholm.
There are two Swedish ships now in the North, the Quest, which was used as a base for aviation scouts and the Tanja, which is riding at anchor with three Swedish aviators, who will proceed home.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, July 19.—Russia intends to strength forces searching for Roald Amundsen and his five missing companions and for the six men carried away in the bag of the Italia after their crash north of Spitzbergen.

Vice Commissar for War Kam-eneff, asked concerning the plans
for the rescue work, said:
"Our expedition is facing a most difficult problem. For the solution of it we must prop up our forces and means, particularly because in this we can no longer
count on the co-operation of other Governments and we shall eventually have to work alone."

"The solution of this problem is a matter of paramount importance to our public. The complications and difficulties of the task must not discourage us since the members of our expedition have proved that they are ready and able to overcome the greatest obstacles."

The icebreaker Malign searching for Amundsen to the east of Northeast Land, reached the edge of the ice pack north of Spitzber-
gen. It turned and was proceeding along the southeast coast of Spitzbergen archipelago. The vessel reported that it had frequently been jammed in the ice fields and experienced two violent storms
which caused some damage to the ship.

The other Russian icebreaker, the Krassin, will return to the waters north of Northeast Land
after taking on coal at Advent Bay
and commence an intensive search.
Russian planes will use the ship
as a base for flights over the ice fields looking for the missing men.

MCRAWLEY CUTS
INTO WILSON'S HOME SUPPORT

Democratic Leaders in Northwest Missouri, However, Line Up With Platte County Man.

URBAN INFLUENCE
EXTENDS TO AREA

Rural Districts Kept in Line
by Hope of Gaining Some Standing With the Administration.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 19.— While it does not appear that a very intensive campaign of the counties in the Fourth Congressional District by State Senator A.
L. McCawley, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, has won the district for him, McCawley unquestionably has cut deeply into the strength of Francis
M. Wilson, his opponent.

This is Wilson's home district,
he having lived in Platte County
before going to Kansas City 15 years ago to be United States District Attorney. For that reason McCawley has devoted more time to organization work and to campaigning here than in any part of the State.

The Wilson representatives do not concede any material following for McCawley outside of St. Joseph, and little here, but independent information is to the effect that Mc-Cawley will make a very good showing in Buchanan County, and that his vote in the other counties
of the district will be much larger than his opponents are willing to admit.

Influence of Pendergast.
However, the working organization leaders are supporting Wilson
and in a primary their strength
usually tells. It is entirely natural that they should line up in the Wilson camp. For one reason many of them have been associated in politics with Wilson for many years. Another, and probably of greater influence, is that Wilson has the active support of Tom Pendergast, Democrat boss of Kansas City.

Pendergast influence extends to the counties largely because county leaders know that individually they would have little influence with an administration
even though they helped elect it.
That is considerable may be judged from the fact that the Mc-Cawley Club in Buchanan County has more than 2600 signed-up members, which may be considered particularly significant from the fact that the McCawley appeal is to that class of voters who are not practical working politicians,
and who usually remain out of campaigning.

However, for a candidate to overcome the organization influence in the primary there must develop a very strong trend of sentiment for him. That something of a trend in that direction has developed is far too dangerous
to justify an abandonment of the State policy of no more grade crossings.

One provision of the bill is that it must be approved by the Missouri Public Service Commission.
North St. Louis is preparing to remind the commission that the State law forbids the creation of any new grade crossing except by approval of the commission. The commission will be told that the Cass avenue crossing is far too dangerous
to justify an abandonment of the State policy of no more grade crossings.

Support for Lay.
Whether it will reach a swing
sufficiently strong to accomplish
his nomination will depend upon developments during the next three weeks. A lot of much importance being the opposition of Senator Reed to Charles M. Hay, candidate for the nomination for the Senate. The dry support of Hay is restless under the Reed attack
on him and in some of the State
State, one frequently hears of voters who are going to McCawley out of resentment against Reed, their view being that if Pendergast is not sufficiently interested in Wilson to influence Reed to remain
out of the senatorial fight, they will turn against the Pendergast
choice for Governor.

This section of the State is Hay territory. Nearly all the leaders,
dry and wet, are supporting him.
They say Hay will receive fully 90 per cent of the primary vote, a figure probably a little high, but the indications are that his vote
may nearly approach that percentage of the total.

On the Republican side, nearly all the organization workers are supporting Henry S. Caulfield for Governor and Roscoe C.
Patterson for Senator. However,

Zeppelin for Trans-Atlantic Flight Christened

THE L-127, latest and largest Zeppelin, was christened the "Graf Zeppelin" recently at Friedrichshafen by Countess Brandenstein-Zeppelin. The event commemorated the 90th anniversary of the birth of the Countess's father, the late Count Zeppelin, inventor of this type of craft. The building of this new airship has been conducted in competition with the English who are building the R-100, and Germany hopes the "Graf Zeppelin" will be the first to cross the Atlantic with passengers.

TO ASK MAYOR NOT TO SIGN I. T. S. GRANT

North Side Business Men to Accent Dangers of Proposed Franchise.

A group of North St. Louis business men will call upon Mayor Miller tomorrow to ask him not to sign the Illinois Terminal System 50-year franchise.

They will represent the North St.
Louis Business Men's Association,
the Cass Avenue Bank and private industries in the area affected.

At a meeting last night, it was determined to postpone consideration of a referendum on the franchise until after the visit to the Mayor.

The protesters will emphasize,
as the first objection to the ordinance
that it does not make sure that the dangerous grade crossing proposed at Cass avenue ever will be eliminated and that the probability is that if it is created, it never will be eliminated.

They will say, also, that in this day of rapidly changing traffic conditions, 50 years is too long a period for a franchise to any transportation agency.

COMMUNISTS ARRESTED AT TREASON TRIAL IN VIENNA

2000 Participate in Demonstration for Leader Sentenced to Year
at Hard Labor.

By the Associated Press.
VIENNA, July 19.—Several persons, including a woman, were under arrest today after participating in a demonstration for Col.
Gustave Wolff, who was sentenced to prison yesterday for one year
on a charge of treason. Wolff, who is the leader of the Austrian Monarchist party, was charged with having invited Hungary to send an army into Austria to seize Bela Kun, once Communist ruler of Hungary and now wanted there on charges of murder.

A crowd estimated at 2000 gave
Col. Wolff a rousing ovation outside the court after sentence had been pronounced. They cried:
"Long live the Kaiser; down with the Republic."

A woman placed a laurel wreath
with the imperial colors on Wolff's head. Police finally broke up the demonstration, making several arrests.

The sentence of one year at hard labor will become operative if the Supreme Court rejects an appeal which Wolff intends to make. In the meantime he is free and it is considered quite likely that he will escape abroad if the appeal is denied.

W. C. T. U. STARTS NATIONAL CAMPAIGN AGAINST SMITH

Instituted, Organization Explains,
Because of Governor's Attitude
On Liquor.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 19.—The national office of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has announced
the start of a countrywide campaign to prevent Gov. Smith's election to the presidency. The campaign was instituted, an official statement said, because "in the South and West, particularly, W.
C. T. U. women and other drys are being told that Gov. Smith is no more of a wet than Herbert Hoover."

"The saloon record of Gov. Alfred E. Smith," said the first of the campaign bulletins, "is a fitting prelude to his promise that if he reaches the White House he will lead the way to legalized liquor.
For 25 years he has voted and the sale of booze, and against prohibition."

"The W. C. T. U. takes issue with Gov. Smith in his statement that liquor can be sold legally without the return of the old saloon. In Canada, where the liquor men promised the sale of booze
without the saloon, liquor laws are growing more liberal and the saloon is coming back in various forms in clubs or restaurants, or white rooms. All the old saloon evils are reappearing in Canada."

LIBERAL PARTY DEFEATED

British Columbia Conservatives
In Control After 12 Years.

By the Associated Press.
VANCOUVER, B. C., July 19.—
With at least 26 opposition candidates elected as indicated in returns today out of a total of 48,
the conservative party won at the polls in yesterday's election in British Columbia. The liberal government, after 12 years of power,
has been swept from office.

S. F. Tolmie, conservative leader, was elected by a big majority.
But Premier J. D. MacLean, who headed the liberal ticket in Victoria, went down to defeat as did his three running mates.

DRY ANTI-SMITH
DEMOCRATS IN SOUTH ORGANIZE

Conference at Asheville, N.
C. Adopts Name and Statement of Purposes and Plan.

MEMBERS PLEDGED TO BACK HOOVER

Committee of Two in Each Southern State Including Missouri to Oppose Election of New York.

By the Associated Press.
ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 19.—
Formally declaring their intention to work and vote for the election of Herbert Hoover, Republican candidate for the presidency, an organization in conference here today adopted the name, "Dry Southern Anti-Smith Democrats," together with a statement of principles and aims.

Formal organization was completed and the meeting decided that a committee of two from each Southern state, including Oklahoma, Missouri and West Virginia, should be selected to carry on the campaign against Gov. Smith of New York, the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

The statement of principles carrying four sections setting forth
the aims of the meeting and the grounds on which they oppose Smith, is 2000 words in length. It accuses Gov. Smith of failing to keep faith and declares undying opposition to him because of his stand on the prohibition question and his connection with Tammany Hall.

The statement says: "As the most direct and effective way, indeed,
the only way to insure the defeat
of this wet Tammany candidate, is that our dry Southern Democratic voters cast their ballots in the coming election for Herbert Hoover."

Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, president of the National Women's Democratic Law Enforcement
League, was the principal speaker
at a general session of the conference last night, to which the public was admitted.

Says 75,000 Women Oppose Smith.
She asserted that 75,000 women
members of her organization, were opposed to Gov. Smith. She denounced the nominee for his Tammany connections and his stand on prohibition.

"I have heard women in every state in the union say," Mrs. Nicholson declared, "that if Herbert Hoover was good enough for Woodrow Wilson, he was good enough for them and they would refuse to vote for Al Smith."

Mrs. Nicholson presented a statement from Mrs. Clem Shaver, whose husband recently retired as chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in which she declared that "Regardless of what the Democratic leaders propose, dry Democratic women do not intend to support the wet ticket and joke platform named at the convention by the Tammany delegates."

Bishop Edwin D. Mouson of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, intended to vote for Hoover and Curtis. "I will not vote for Smith," he said. "I intend to vote against him as a Democrat because I am a Democrat."

Dr. Arthur J. Barton of Atlanta was named chairman on the motion of Bishop Cannon.

Dr. Barton declared that the prohibition laws have been menaced by the nomination of Gov.
Smith.

Am a Democrat and therefore opposed to Al Smith," he said. "In that, I think I voice the ideas of an overwhelming number of Democrats of Southern states."

"This conference was called because of a serious moral crisis in the life of the nation. After 100 years of effort we succeeded in accomplishing the greatest single reform ever accomplished by a free people on the face of the earth. Now that would be jeopardized if the nominee of the Democratic party elected. There also is a crisis in the life of our party."

"The fact that I will not support Al Smith in no way questions my Democracy. Our party has been delivered into the claws
of the Tammany Tiger, red with the blood of every Democratic candidate for President for generations."

The registration of delegates
showed the following: Alabama
16, Arkansas 4, Florida 12, Georgia
27, Kentucky 7, Louisiana 4, Mississippi 2, Maryland 2, Tennessee 15, South Carolina 13, Texas

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress or reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of the people, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

What Are Sumptuary Laws?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

It is strange to me that in all the talk as to the eighteenth amendment no one has ever discussed it from the proper standpoint.

The reason why said amendment is wrong is found in the fact that it is a sumptuary law. A sumptuary law is one in which it is provided what a citizen may eat and drink and where he shall be clothed. It is a law in which the government assumes parental authority over the citizen.

This matter of sumptuary laws came up in the convention assembled to make our present Constitution, and on Aug. 20, 1787, one Mr. Mason offered a resolution providing that Congress be authorized to pass sumptuary laws. After a full discussion of the subject a vote was taken and the resolution was voted down, eight states to three. (See Elliott's Debates of the Federal Constitution.)

So well did this action of said convention settle the question against sumptuary laws, that thereafter, the great Jeffersonian Democratic party always put in its platform a plank in these words, "We oppose all sumptuary laws." And if the convention of Houston had been composed of men who knew for what the Democratic party had stood ever since 1787, that convention would have stated that the eighteenth amendment is a sumptuary law, and refused its endorsement in any way.

But the regretful fact exists that the present day politicians have never read history sufficient to know the American system of Government or for what the old Jeffersonian Democracy stood.

I hope to live until Gov. Smith is made President, and I will have him get and read Elliott's Debates and Madison's papers and be prepared to veto all sumptuary laws.

The Shaw Mausoleum.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

ON a visit to Shaw's Garden recently I found it a thing of beauty, but was shocked by the deplorable condition of the mausoleum of Henry Shaw. Water had seeped in from the recent rains and was standing on the floor; the crypt had cobwebs on it; the exterior and interior needed a general cleaning; and the inclosure needed sodding in spots. Considering the wonderful generosity of Mr. Shaw to St. Louis, the trustees should at least show respect to the dead by keeping his mausoleum in good condition.

Speeding Up the Surface Cars.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

ST. LOUIS car riders would be happy, presumably, if they had a rapid transit system that would cut their riding time by half or more. But, do they realize that subway trains do not stop on every corner, but run three or four blocks at a jump? Surface cars cannot be expected to provide subway speed, but they could do a great deal toward that end if they were not required to stop as soon as ever they get up speed. The time now being made between Twelfth and Grand is a joy. It permits thousands more time for rest and recreation at home. The former crawl, jerk and grind through this district was an agony and an abomination.

The skip-stop issue is not between the city and the street car company. Bunk! It is between the multitude of rail passengers and a handful of merchants who have no claim on the public whatsoever. Whatever their differences on valuation and fares, the people are with the company in this. Let the Public Service Commission make no mistake.

He's a Man, Not a Myth.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

FOLKS, it's plain that this Smith is a man, not a myth, and a regular fellow all through; not a "strong silent" bird that won't dare say a word, but a chap that can think, speak and do.

Why, a plain guy would think that the President wouldn't shrink from a little straight talk now and then that let all his know why he does so-and-so—or why not. That's just reasonable, men! Yet for nearly eight years they've been drumming up cheers for a gink that ain't opened his trap! In the meantime the crooks was a-gettin' their hooks in the juiciest things on the map.

It's sure time the United States takes the broom to the mess that they laughingly call G. O. P., and A. Smith, F. E. M. Is the man that'll stem all this plunderin' black jamboree. With that chap on their neck they can't stick the old deck, and the clam-guessin' contest 'd go. He's one boy that won't balk at the straightforward talk; now or any old time in the show!

Yep, when all's said and done, we can't use anyone that depends on just silence and bluff. So, old-timers, take note: here's one good lousy vote for the Gov. and the square-shootin' staff!

ST. LOUIS IN 1953.

The City Transportation Commission should, in the opinion of its chairman, E. J. Russell, "think in terms of a city twice as large as the present St. Louis." In point of time that means 25 years, in which period the present population of, say, 900,000, will have doubled itself.

This forecast, it seems to us, is conservative rather than optimistic. The St. Louis of 1953 will, we believe, have a population far in excess of 2,000,000. An adequate transportation system is now envisioned and presently provided. The evidence available now points to the rapid growth of St. Louis in the next 25 years—to the most expanding quarter of a century in the city's history.

There is first of all the river. When the lakes and the gulf are commercially linked the Mississippi will, in all probability, be one of the important water highways of the world which will mean prestige and people to St. Louis. We are now justifiably cherishing the dream of becoming the country's aviation center and if the airport bonds are voted next month that dream will then take on some of the outlines of reality. Meantime the multiplying automobile is compelling the construction of highways, State and national, on a continuously larger scale, and the location which made St. Louis a railroad center should give this city a corresponding position in motor traffic. And in that tremendous industry of steel manufacture St. Louis' future is directly ahead.

Cities are rarely sufficiently foresighted. A case in special point is that of Oklahoma City. That city, incorporated in 1891, sprang from swaddling clothes to adolescence almost at a bound. In its early teens it was, apparently, grotesquely overbuilt, with good news knows how many spanking new office buildings glaringly unoccupied and no tenants in sight. Then came oil, and along with oil, the growth of the State from struggling pioneerdom to established production, and Oklahoma City swung out of its slump. Today, at the age of 37, it is a city of 150,000, and is now engaged on a system of city planning which provisions a municipality of 500,000 in 50 years. Daring as that objective may seem, its own experience as well as that of other cities stamps the program as more cautious than courageous.

There is no law fixing the growth of cities. Given a real reason for being, such as St. Louis preeminently has, and our growth materially and culturally will be determined by the initiative, intelligence, sincerity and vision which as citizens we contribute to the cause.

A TIRED MAN.

Mr. Coolidge is said to have been somewhat concerned about Mr. Hoover's health on the latter's recent visit. The candidate appeared worn and tired and was advised by his host to get as much rest as possible and not to delay doing it.

This report of Mr. Hoover's condition is easily understood. For seven years the Washington correspondents have been telling us about the prodigious labors of the Secretary of Commerce. In addition to his own department, enough to occupy the energy of the average Cabinet officer, he was frequently assigned to difficult special tasks, and, so rumor observed, facetiously but with a grain of malice, was willing and eager to take over any other official duties that seemed to require attention. Atop of all this, the long canvass for the nomination must have made severe drafts on his strength.

It seems, too, that the art of play is not among Mr. Hoover's accomplishments. The luring lures, where so many of our public men find succor from affairs of state do not lure Mr. Hoover at all. Golf and he are strangers. Rarely does the theater see him. His idea of a rollicking evening, after a 12-hour day in the office, is to pore over statistical reports under the midnight oil. And while all this is, in a way, admirable and in strict conformity with the orthodox formula of success, still it can be overdone.

Perhaps Mr. Hoover has overdone it. Mr. Coolidge seems to think so, and has given excellent advice which the nominee will do well to act upon.

HOW CAPT. GRAY DIED.

The causes of the death of Capt. Hawthorne C. Gray, who died in the basket of his balloon after an ascent last fall from Scott Field to an altitude of 42,470 feet, are still shrouded in the mystery in which the upper air holds its secrets, but some notion of the circumstances that snatched life from the gallant aeronaut is to be gathered from a recent official report made by Lieut. W. H. Bleakley of the Air Corps.

Bleakley, who is a former St. Louisian, incidentally, ascended in an airplane last month to an altitude of more than 35,000 feet, using oxygen equipment such as was furnished to Capt. Gray. At the peak altitude, he said, he found himself suddenly seized with a strange lethargy, from which he could not wrest himself.

His head, which he had lowered, he found himself unable to raise. He could not take his hand from the radiator shutter control handle and place it on the throttle handle, although he wanted to do so. He had a sudden sensation of being about to burst. His tongue clogged to the roof of his mouth, his eyes protruded, and he was unable to breathe easily. He was fully conscious, but he could not move a muscle. Fortunately, he had so placed himself in the seat that he fell forward, depressing the control stick and sending the plane down in a dive to a lower altitude, where he recovered partially. For Capt. Gray, however, there was no such recovery. It is reasonable to believe that when he encountered the same experience he was unable to move enough to open the gas valve for a descent, so that the balloon hung in the upper altitude long enough for life to ebb away, with the brave officer as powerless to save himself from his fate as though he had been bound hand and foot.

ROOT BEER AND PRETZELS.

One hundred per cent pacifists will everywhere join with us in deploring the regrettable spectacle at Manchester, N. H. There the calm of arching elms and pillared porticoes has been rent to shreds as the First Methodist Church and the W. C. T. U. stand side by side one another and thinking harsh, quarrel-planned by the Manchester Tennis Club, which proposes to serve root beer and pretzels. This the Methodists approve as a harmless festivity, while the W. C. T. U. pronounces it a debauch.

It is no intention of ours to evade our duty in the premises either by craven silence or contemptible straddling. In this historic crisis we are with the W. C. T. U. It may be, perhaps, that "debauch" is rather a severe term to apply to the affair, but root beer and pretzels, jointly or severally, can, in our opinion, add nothing to the gaiety of things in Manchester, N. H., or anywhere else. There were quite as much hilarity, we maintain, in ice cream and cake, sherbet and macaroon, yes, or bread and water. And when the W. C. T. U. says that root beer and pretzels are traditionally a discord, palatably a heresy and socially a total loss, the W. C. T. U. is dead right.

MYSTERY IN THE ARCTIC.

If it is true, as the dispatches report, that the Swedish Government will undertake an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death of Dr. Finn Malmgren, who was left by his companions to die on an ice floe, then a very wholesome thing will be done. Indeed, it would be an excellent idea if the Italian Government were to join with the Swedish in this enterprise and find the truth about the whole tragic fiasco that had its beginning when the Italia set out for the pole last May. Things have got to a point where hearsay information will no longer do. Already, in various cities of the world newspapers are denouncing Noble for deserting his men, denouncing the pair who are alleged to have left Malmgren to die on the ice, denouncing the incompetence that is said to have characterized the expedition from the time it set out.

And, in a way, this chorus of criticism is most natural. From the time Noble flew out to safety with the aviator Lundborg there have been rumors, queer silences, conflicting dispatches, until the world does not know what to believe. Noble, it was reported, was hoisted aboard the plane by his men because he was injured and out of his head. Noble, it was reported next, was only slightly injured and was never out of his head. He was prevailed upon to go because his special knowledge of conditions would enable him to direct the work of rescue. Next, it was reported that the three men who had set out afoot over the ice were certainly lost. Next it was reported that two of them had been rescued and that they had stood a heroic vigil of a month over the body of Malmgren, which was found with them. Next it was reported that they had stood no heroic vigil at all, but had abandoned Malmgren alive and had then been unable to travel more than a few hundred yards from where he lay. Next, it was reported that Noble, before he departed in Lundborg's plane, had proposed to abandon the two men of his party who were injured and make his way with the others over the ice to land.

Well, after these stories who can wonder that a clamor goes up everywhere for the truth? It is possible that some of these stories have been hatched by correspondents who do not like Italians and who are anxious to cast reflections on Italian gallantry. But the point is that the stories have been put out and that they are doubtless believed by many. It would clear the air if responsible investigators were assigned to find out what the facts really are.

UP SPAKE COLLET.

James A. Collet, who is Senator Reed's choice to succeed him, has not hitherto impressed the State as having any of the quality of his mentor.

Nevertheless, he did better a few nights ago, when he turned his wondering gaze upon the spectacle of Charles M. Hay, a former dry leader in the State Legislature, trying to ascend to the United States Senate upon the coat-tails of Gov. Smith, who is as wet as the ocean.

We do not know whether Mr. Collet is going to maintain himself at that oratorical level or not. If he does he will be heard of in the campaign. We have ourselves made the point that if we hope to do anything about prohibition it will avail us nothing to elect Smith if we send dries to Congress to consider his proposals. Mr. Collet cannot understand how the Democrats could hope to accomplish anything if they practiced political underhandedness of that sort, nor can we see it. Mr. Hay says the Anti-Saloon League in Missouri is not paying for his campaign. That may be, but nobody is guileless enough to believe that it is being paid for by the local chapter of the Association Against Prohibition. He is on that side, and it must be said to his credit that he is honestly on that side.

The problem of the St. Louis County grand jury must have been whom to indict first.

JURISTS WITH SOULS.

In an editorial reprinted in the Post-Dispatch the New York Herald Tribune expressed the hope that the report is untrue that Oliver Wendell Holmes will resign from the Supreme Court next October, "for our highest court can ill spare him."

To that hope public sentiment will say amen. Mr. Justice Holmes has captured the imagination of the country as has, perhaps, no other member of that tribunal. If another could be mentioned in that regard he would be Mr. Justice Brandeis, whose name is so frequently linked with that of his elder colleague in dissenting opinions that somehow seem to strip away the coils of legalism and reveal the shining spirit of justice.

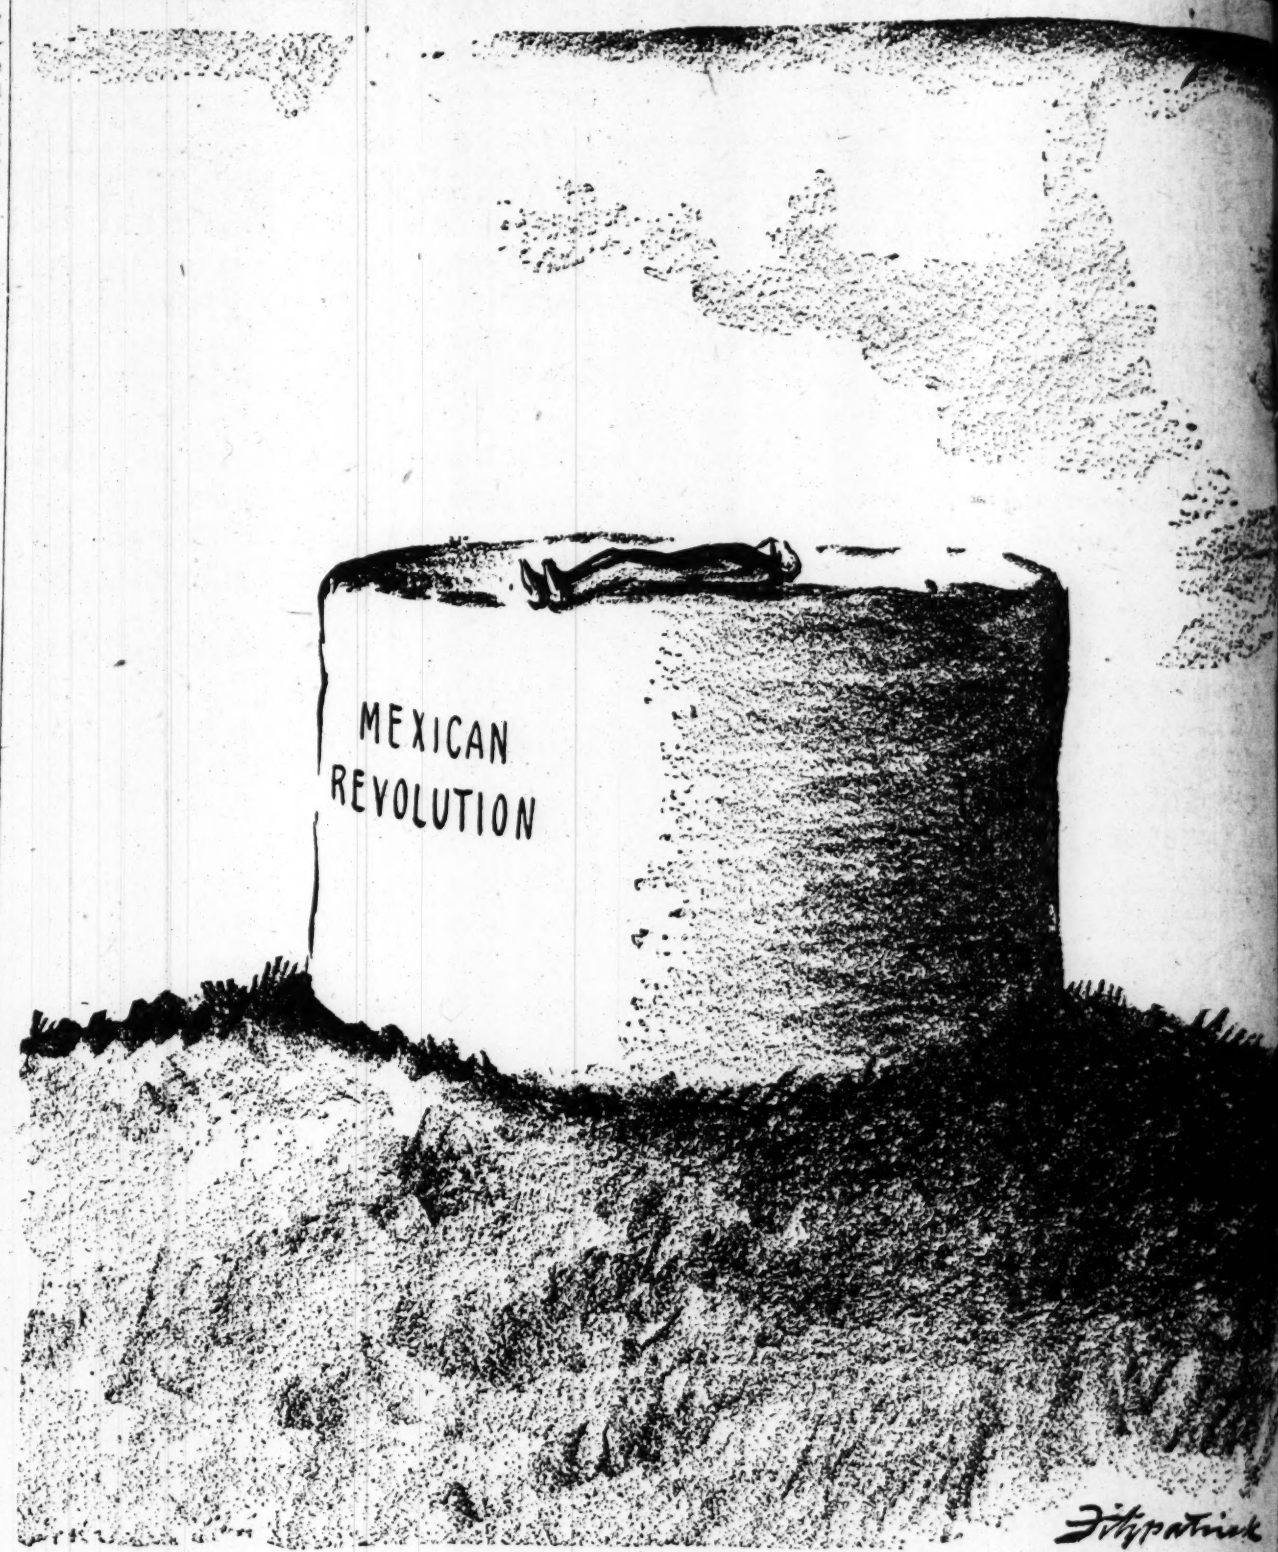

When the history of this period of the Supreme Court is written it is reasonably certain that the names of Holmes and Brandeis will "lead all the rest." And it will likely be recorded as significant that those two great Judges were appointed to the Supreme Bench by our two outstanding Presidents of the first quarter of the century—Holmes by Roosevelt, Brandeis by Wilson.

Gov. Smith refuses to be photographed while laying bricks, which encourages us to believe that when he comes West he will not do the usual hay-pitching stunt for the picture pages.

THOSE DANDIES, THE BROWNS.

Walking sticks have been added to the social life of our Browns, slick, yellow walking sticks, and every man on the squad has one. The canes were bought in a moment of ecstasy in Washington, just after the ball tossers had completed winning five games in a row. They had a right to celebrate. Any team that wins five in a row has a right to celebrate.

Just why the boys chose walking sticks to show their jubilation we do not know. Some people like them and some do not; a walking stick is a matter of personal privilege and to carry one or not to carry one is important only to the individual. But the important business of the Browns and their bag full of canes, obviously, is what those slick sticks stand for. If the Browns can make frequent winning streaks of five at a time they may carry cornflowers caught to their wrists with silver tulle.

THE SACRIFICE.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

POLITICAL BUNGLING.

From the Arkansas Democrat.

IT is the contention of the anti-Smithites that leaders of the Democratic party made a fatal error, were guilty of the highest type of political bungling, when they nominated Gov. Al Smith as the party's standard bearer. The embryonic bolters further claim that the delegates at Houston "booted one" when they did not specifically refer to the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act in their prohibition plank. And the prize political "bone" of all, according to those irreconcilables, was "pulled" by Gov. Smith in declaring immediately after being nominated that he was personally opposed to prohibition as it exists today.

If these folk are correct then the best and wisest thing the Democratic party can do right now is shut up shop and go fishing, leaving the voting to be done by the Republicans, thereby saving money and prestige for the next battle.

Much of this sentiment, as everyone knows, is in the South. But the geography of the nation happens to be such that there are other sections besides the South, for instance, the East. What was the effect of those prohibition statements in the East? Soon after Secretary of the Interior Dr. Hubert Work—notoriously a virtuoso at bungling—was selected campaign manager for Mr. Hoover, he took it upon himself to announce that the Republican party would pay no attention to the prohibition issue, but would lay far more stress on the tariff, or words to that effect.

What was the reaction to that statement? Immediately there came a lusty yell from the old line politicians in the East who declared that Dr. Work was making a splendid start toward losing the East in November. They went even further, they demanded that Mr. Hoover, in his speech of acceptance, offset Work's bungling by "making some concessions" to the wet wing of the party.

Another phenomenon has given great solace to the Southern anti-Smith folk, the announcement that the Democratic party will wage a vigorous campaign in the South. That indicates, they say, that they fear results in what has always been Democratic territory. But what of the statement that Republican campaign plans are concentrating on the East? Isn't that normally "Republican" territory?

It is charged that Gov. Smith bungled when he selected John Raasb, "notorious wet," as national chairman. But the Republicans have enlisted Henry Ford, a "no-union dry"—though from a notoriously wet city—which means, what?

In the matter of bungling, you may have noticed that every time the Democrats are guilty of a "fatal mistake" in one section, the Republicans immediately commit a similar "grievous" error in another section. It is indeed a strange campaign and one which we cannot fathom.

"OFT IN THE STILLY NIGHT."

From the New York Evening Post.

NO one has a quarrel with the man who has a radio in his own home—provided he keeps his selections within the bounds of his own ballistics, especially on a hot night. For many years antinote societies have been active in suppressing unnecessary clamor in the city, much to the benafit of those compelled to remain in the torrid town during the summer. But with windows kept open to catch every breath of air that blows, the public does not pine for jazz or oratory emanating from loud speakers in the stilly night through these apertures. During the present oppressive weather, when vitality is at its lowest ebb, quiet is absolutely essential. If radio bugs in residential neighborhoods enjoy programs calling for the loudest volume, discretion should be used and a thought given to the neighbors. This abuse of the radio may in time call for remedial measures, one of which should be: "Close the windows and tone down."

THE OLD CAR MUST GO—BUT WHERE?

From the New York Herald Tribune.

WHILE vocal cords have been strained and gallons of ink have been shed in denunciation of hot-dog and soft-drink stands, billboards, filling stations and garages, one of the least developed roadside phenomena, the automobile dump, has escaped with relatively light censure. Possibly this is because these man-made atrocities only recently have attained huge proportions. They are numerous enough and large enough now to satisfy the most discriminating connoisseur of ugliness. It is depressing to round a curve and come suddenly upon one of these dumps, with its hundreds, even thousands, of battered and rusty cars lying in rows and heaps for perhaps a quarter of a mile back from and along the highway. For the most part, they are dilapidated beyond redemption. Not even the most jocular and inventive sophomoric could induce one of them to run another mile.

There was nothing of this sort in the days before horses gave way to horsepower. As we recall it, the old wagon no longer fit to fulfill its functions was wheeled into an unused corner of the barn at about the time that Old Bess was turned out to pasture for the rest of her days. Eventually, perhaps, it was pushed out into the barnyard, and there it stood, year after year, useful and not unsightly in its weathered old age. Hens roosted on its spare boxes and barrels were stored in its children played in it, stinking stylishly in the driver's seat and whipping up an imaginary pace. Why is there no similar charm or usefulness in old cars? Why must they be lined up by the roadside in revolting rows to insult the eye of the passing motorist?

There need be no hesitancy in saying that the satisfactory disposal of old cars constitutes a capital problem. Doubtless it is a problem that can be solved. Old tires, which not so long ago presented a not dissimilar problem, today hang alluringly at the ends of ropes hitched to convenient branches in a hundred thousand farmyards, magnificently utilized as swings. But while it is not denied that the old car must go as yet no one seems to know just where. To discover a method of utilizing it—converting it into modern furniture, say, or window boxes, or musical instruments, thereby ridding the landscape of obnoxious auto dumps, in all likelihood will tax to the utmost the far-famed ingenuity of American industrialism.

Remarkable Tales

THEY RETURN AT EVENING

By E. R. Wakefield. (Apples)

It is not very often that one runs across a ghost story that can be read with unqualified interest by those who are somewhat acquainted with literary books and are not to be imposed upon by any obvious appeal to a sensitive sense of terror. Most of the ghost tales remind one of a child playing his woolly bear around the sofa. You have to make your shivers.

Set about to count the really impressive ghost stories you have read in all your life and you will find the number fairly small. Also, you will probably note that those produced by men and women who had a considerable margin of general culture to go on—who were themselves so far beyond the primitive ghost idea that they could play with it in an easy, masterful way.

E. R. Wakefield is a writer of ghostly tales with such a margin, that every one of the 10 stories here collected is truly remarkable in its own peculiar way. There are no repetitions of effect, for the reason that the ghost motif is generally employed not, apparently, for its own sake, but as the delectable factor in some thoroughly human complication of absorbing interest in itself. The attention is thus drawn sufficiently from the ghost idea to arouse the normal human sympathies of the reader for those who struggle in some net of fate.

Though the tales, if sketched helter, might seem trivial enough, the reader feels an intellectual power at play, often even in the passages that seem most preposterous when considered in a matter-of-fact mood, and there are many brief flashes of understanding that reveal no common mind. Nor is the sense of humor lacking, though it never betrays the reader into complete incredulity; rather, its unobtrusive play produces swift contrasts in the strange, uneasy mood that serve to intensify the ultimate uncanniness.

Mr. Wakefield is an Englishman who seems thus far to be little known in America.

TWO FLIGHTS UP. By Mary Roberts Rinehart. (Doubleday, Doran & Co.)

With 25 books to her credit, most of them also creditable to her, Mary Roberts Rinehart makes a little start on the second 25 with "Two Flights Up," which is announced as a love story with just enough mystery. The love story is mild but acceptable. The mystery is not quite enough. There is mystery and understanding affecting the people in the story, but it does not extend to the reader, to whom everything is clear, including how it is going to turn out, which is not the way that it should be in a mystery story. It would have been a better exhibition of the author's well-known skill if she had contrived to have the reader share in the mystification created by the acts of her characters, but that would have been more difficult. Perhaps one who has written 25 books is entitled to take things a little easy on the twenty-sixth. It is a privilege which the reader shares, for "Two Flights Up" is a summer reading. Not the least of its charm is the picture it presents of the women of a poor but proud family, living in memory of the prosperity of the past and the pretenses of the present. Not only these women but the other characters are presented with the vividness which one expects in the characters of Mary Roberts Rinehart, even when she is writing a love story that is merely mild and a mystery story that is not very mysterious. PRESSURE POLITICS. By Peter H. Odegard. (Columbia University Press.)

A SERIOUS study of the Anti-Saloon League of America, its history, organization and technique of reform, by a member of the Columbia University faculty, who is unprejudiced at least to the extent that he is neither a professional wet nor a professional dry. Odegard states the case with nice restraint and no heat, but the sum total of his work is hardly anything more than Senator Reed uncovered in his investigation several months ago. The Anti-Saloon League is a political organization and has always professed to be one. It is the political fighting edge of a few Protestant denominations united on one issue. Its constituent bodies have little or no say as to what the Anti-Saloon League does or how it does it. Their business is merely to pay the bills, and this they do. The Anti-Saloon League represents a minority in the American scene, but the minority is organized efficiently. There is nothing illegal in such an organization. No minority can make itself heard without organization and any minority is free to organize and do the best it can. In pursuing its program the Anti-Saloon League puts candidates on record, wet or dry. The candidate need not forswear liquor for himself, but must promise to jump when the league cracks the whip. Such is the story. H. T. M.

RAIN, SO COOLIDGE WORKS

He Abandons Fishing Trip and Returns to Office.

By the Associated Press.

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 19.—Sudden recurrence of rain interfered today with President Coolidge's intention to forsake all business for fishing. After starting out early for a little angling expedition, the chief executive returned to Cedar Island Lodge to try and seek refuge from the chill wind which combined with the rain to make the outdoors disagreeable. Mr. Coolidge thereupon turned to his working table, going over the morning correspondence.

William H. Moran, chief of the United States Secret Service, arrived today from Washington for a short stay. Moran visited the camp at Cedar Island Lodge, getting first hand information of the protection afforded the President there as well as in Superior.

250,000 IN VIENNA FOR SCHUBERT FETE

Four-Day Program Celebrating Centenary of Composer's Death Is Begun.

By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, July 19.—In honor of Franz Schubert, the centenary of whose death is being celebrated this year, 150,000 members of choral societies from all over the world are participating today in the tenth German choral festival here.

During four days, beginning today, the music of "the greatest song-writer of all time" will be sung by highly trained choirs. The American delegation numbers 300. So universal is the interest that the concert hall in the Prater, which accommodates 70,000 persons and is said to be the largest wooden structure ever built, is incapable of housing all the singers and visitors attending the festival. For this reason a complete shift of audience and performers is made several times a day, concerts continuing all day long.

At least 250,000 persons have gathered in Vienna for the celebrations, have taxed the city's transportation, hotel and restaurant capacity to its utmost. Citizens have volunteered to house 50,000 of the visitors, and several hundred temporary restaurants have been provided to feed them. The German and Polish Governments have placed hundreds of locomotives and passenger coaches at the disposal of Austria, and 60,000 beds have been lent by Poland.

The success of the Schubert Centenary is in marked contrast to that accorded the composer himself during his brief life of 31 years. Born in Vienna, he faced extreme poverty with gaiety, and sure of his genius, which remained unrecognized by the world, he left at his death a heritage of 600 songs, a group of brilliant masses, concertos, symphonies and other instrumental pieces; a lock of faded hair and a pair of old spectacles.

The latter are preserved in an exhibition opened here in May by officials of the Austrian Government.

MRS. TENNYSON'S WEDDING

TO J. M. BECK JR. POSTPONED

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 19.—The Daily Express says the wedding of Mrs. Tennyson to J. M. Beck Jr., who was named as correspondent in the Tennyson divorce suit, has been postponed. Beck is a son of a former Solicitor-General of the United States.

Mrs. Tennyson told a few intimate friends recently that she would marry the American at the registry office in Paddington, West London, today, and the plan had been kept a closely guarded secret. However, notice of the marriage has been withdrawn.

Mrs. Tennyson is a sister of Lord Glenconner. She was married first in 1915 to Capt. William Bethel. This marriage was dissolved in 1918. In the same year she married Maj. Lionel Tennyson, a grandson of the poet laureate, Alfred Lord Tennyson. Tennyson obtained a divorce in July last year on a charge of misconduct.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, July 19.

NEW YORK is slowly becoming slumless. Great block-long chunks have been taken out of the teeming East Side tenement district to make way for livable apartment house quarters at reasonable rental. A great change comes to what O. Henry called the submerged tenth.

While the greatest of economic problems has not been solved, the progress in the last 10 years has been startling. Uptown New York with accustomed umbrageousness observes: "She has cut off her nose to spite her face." The craze for nose bobbing, incidentally, has not been confined to any particular race. Six out of eight of such operations performed on stage folk were for upturned, snub, rousseau or whatever they call them.

HE IS one of the most adroit of the American comedians. He has poise, diction, an excellent singing voice, a marvelous sense of both high and low comedy, a handsome face, magnificent physique and (I'm not thinking of marrying him) lots of that indefinable quality known as personality. Also he has the most expressive hands of anyone on the speaking stage. Yet he has never clicked in a great big way. He gets across the footlights the feeling he is entirely content. And nothing is so disturbing to an audience as an actor satisfied with himself. Incidentally, the comedian's name is Frank Fay.

THERE are other actors whose attitude is somewhat like that of the average cafe proprietor who bootlegs liquor. He gives the earth to get you the drink and despite the fact he is charging you $1.25 for a 15-cent drink you get the idea he is expecting you to remember him in your will.

FROM an Arkansas paper: "The average New Yorker imagines the only music we hear in Arkansas is the howl of a lonesome hound." Just a little Bach, as it were.

OLIVER HERFORD and a friend were crossing Gramercy Park when his companion noticed the flag half staff at the Players. "I want to stop in a second," he said, "to see who is dead." "Oh, come on," replied Herford. "It is never the right one."

When a popular Jewish actress had her nose bobbed some time ago, Charles Hanson Towne observed: "She has cut off her nose to spite her face." The craze for nose bobbing, incidentally, has not been confined to any particular race. Six out of eight of such operations performed on stage folk were for upturned, snub, rousseau or whatever they call them.

DOROTHY JARDON DENOUNCES

"SNOBBISHNESS" AT NEWPORT

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Exercised over the exclusion of some actors from the ultra-fashionable Bailey's Beach at Newport, R. I., Dorothy Jardon, opera singer, wife of Capt. Harry Oulrichs, nephew of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, summoned reporters to the offices of the Actors' Equity Association and gave vent to her feelings. "The whole thing is snobbish and un-American," she said.

She was especially exercised over a statement in a theatrical magazine, attributed to William Young, superintendent of Bailey's Beach, in which he was quoted as saying that no actors would be allowed on the beach during the Newport Casino Theater season and that "no body of consequence in social circles would have the players as their guests during the morning bathing hours."

Young denied at Newport that any slight toward the theater folk was intended. "It is a fact," he said, "that they must be put up by members but that is a requisite of all clubs."

When the Casino season opened, he explained, a few members of the stock company went to the beach, thinking they could use it without sponsorship and admittance was denied them.

WESTERN PACIFIC SEEKS OWN LINE INTO SAN FRANCISCO

Applies to I. C. C. for Right to Build 163-Mile Extension in Northern California.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—A proposal to build 163 miles of new railroad in Northern California was filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the Western Pacific system and application was made for authority to undertake the enterprise.

Through the Western Pacific California Railroad Co., a new corporation, the Western Pacific intends to establish its own direct rail connection into San Francisco. The maps and application presented call for the completion of a through line 138 miles long from Nilesburg, a point near Stockton, through Fresno to Kings River in Tulare County. Approximately 12 miles of this line already has been built, from Hillmar into Fresno by the Tidewater Southern Railway, and the Western Pacific proposes to obtain track rights over this stretch, building the balance.

BLIND MAN SHOOTS FARMER TO DEATH AT POPLAR BLUFF

W. C. Hill, 64, Tells Sheriff Clyde Wilson Tried to Kill Him and Son.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., July 19.—W. C. Hill, 64 years old, blind farmer, is in jail charged with murder following the killing last night of Clyde Wilson, 46, another farmer who lives in the same house with Hill, nine miles south of here. Hill explained to officers that Wilson came home intoxicated and threatened to kill him. He said he asked his son, Joseph, 13, to give him the shotgun. They went outside and presently Wilson rushed out and tried to take the gun away from Hill, he said.

"I just touched the trigger getting his location by his voice," said Hill.

Wilson was killed outright. Officers were advised that Wilson's wife endeavored to quiet her husband, but that he obtained an ax and attempted to kill Joseph Hill earlier in the evening. After the shooting, Hill's son led him to the home of a friend, where Hill called Sheriff McCown and asked that the officer come after him.

Ford's Railroad Fined $20,000.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., July 19.—Henry Ford's railroad, the Detroit, Toledo & Erie, was fined $20,000 today by Federal Judge Charles C. Simons for violating the Elkins law by failing to collect demurrage charge. It was alleged that in May, 1935, the road failed to charge demurrage on shipments by the Raymond Concrete Pipe Co., which held a contract for construction of foundations at the Fordson plant of the Ford Motor Co. The railroad today pleaded guilty to 20 counts and remaining counts were dismissed.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed.

External treatments seldom banish piles. Nor does cutting remove the cause. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation and a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores and Walgreen Drug Stores, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

Leg Trouble

Enlarged veins in the leg often slow down the return of blood to such an extent that numbness to the leg is diminished. This leads to congestion and ulceration is the result. The first symptoms are usually a rash or discoloration. Ulceration appears more often on smooth, swollen legs (inner vein trouble).

Get Varicose Veins reduced by our absorption method before trouble starts. This is a harmless, painless and permanent aid for you. It not too late.

If ulceration is approaching or if long standing you can heal this without loss of time from work, with the new Viscose Method. This plastic application gets at the real cause of ulceration and heals with surprising promptness while you use the leg. Reduces swollen legs, stops painful Varicose Vein trouble.

If you have leg trouble, call if possible, or send for free book explaining these new methods. Describe your ailment. Phone Chestnut 9417. Call or write today. Hours 9 to 5 daily. Tuesday and Friday 11 to 8 p. m. Consultation and examination FREE.

"THE KEY TO SUCCESS"

WIFE (to old school chum)—And, my dear, I got the most marvelous bargain in a Spanish shawl you ever heard of! Turns to husband who seems to shrink deeper into his chair each moment. Harvey runs upstairs like a deer and brings down his new Spanish shawl so that Mabel can feast her eyes on it.

HUSBAND (scampering across the room)—Certainly, darling.

MABEL—Harvey, you're absolutely the dearest thing I've ever known. Do you think my Ed would go upstairs for me like that? Maybe if I was in a wheel-chair he might! Dorothy, how on earth do you manage it?

WIFE—Psychology. Belief in my powers to get what I want out of life. Belief in myself.

VOICE (issuing from the direction of the stairs)—Ah, ha!

WIFE—Did you hear something just then, Mabel?

MABEL—No. Oh, go on, tell me what you were telling me before. Where did you hear about it? I mean where did you learn how to believe in yourself like this?

WIFE (in a mysterious tone)—I have a book. It's called "Master of Myself." I'll lend it to you. Sh-h-h-h, here comes Harvey.

MABEL—Oh, what a perfectly gorgeous shawl! Oh, let me just stand inside it for a minute will you? She drops the shawl around her and poses before a mirror.

My dear, I've never seen a more beautiful one! (She takes it off and carefully folds it, then looks about her for a place to put it.)

WIFE—Just give it to Harvey. Mabel he'll run upstairs with it again.

HUSBAND (smiling like a man without a country, takes the shawl and goes upstairs with it.)

MABEL (starts at him open-mouthed)—He's a jewel! My Ed would put it in the fireplace first!

WIFE—Your technique's wrong! Mabel, that's all.

VOICE (again from the direction of the stairs)—Hmph!

WIFE—What was that?

MABEL—What?

WIFE—Didn't you hear some one say something just that minute?

MABEL—No. The house isn't haunted, is it?

WIFE—I thought I heard Harvey saying something.

MABEL—No. I didn't hear a thing. . . . By the way, have you got that book here? I mean in the house now?

WIFE—Yes, I'll give it to you before Harvey again.

(Harvey trickles in and gets lost in one of the chairs.)

WIFE (to Mabel)—Why didn't you bring Ed over and then we could have some bridge?

MABEL—It's lodge night—don't be silly!

WIFE—Well, I'd just like to see Harvey going to a lodge meeting and leaving me sitting home all alone—unless I had some important club work to attend to. . . .

You heard about the medal I got for my speech in defense of the proposed bill enforcing the wearing of gloves by huckleberry pickers?

MABEL—We were all awfully proud of you, Dorothy!

WIFE—Harvey, Mabel hasn't seen my medal! It's in my jewel case. . . . Harvey! Where are you?

HUSBAND (in a revitalized voice)—Right here. What is it?

WIFE—I said my medal, the one I received for my speech in defense of the bill, is upstairs in my jewel case.

HUSBAND—Well! You're not in the habit of putting it in the coal bin.

WIFE—I want to show it to Mabel.

HUSBAND (growing fully four inches in his chair)—Why don't you, then?

WIFE—But it's upstairs!

HUSBAND—Well, what's the matter with your going up and bringing it down?

WIFE—Harvey Smithers! What is wrong with you?

HUSBAND—I've got the right technique! (He slaps his knee and laughs hilariously.)

(Wife makes motions with her mouth, but nothing seems to come of it.)

MABEL—Oh, never mind. I'll see it some other time. Besides, I've got to be running along.

HUSBAND—I'm going your way. Mabel, I want to drop in at the lodge. Just a second while I get my hat. (Exit Harvey toward clothes closet.)

WIFE stares, transfixed, at her consort, then starts upstairs! I want to get you that book anyway, Mabel.

MABEL—What for? (With the one woman-to-another smile that slays.)

Meat the new range very slowly and gradually to prevent any possibility of its cracking. Start with just newspapers and gradually add wood, stick by stick.

Avoiding an Unpleasant Job.

It is wise to line the baking pan with either buttered brown paper or lined paper when cooking fish. It will certainly take away the unpleasantness of cleaning the baking pan.

THE COOKING CLASS

By Nancy Dorris.

SOUR CREAM DRESSING.

LONG before salad was served, daily as a matter of course, lettuce and sour cream dressing or wilted lettuce was a popular summer dish. When the new lettuce comes into market each year, we long for a serving of lettuce so dressed.

Timely is the recipe for sour cream dressing discovered in an old cookbook by Alice McGill, Edison dietitian. Almost a meal in itself, the lettuce and sour cream dressing needs only the meat from which the fryings for the dressing are obtained and boiled potatoes nicely seasoned to complete it according to custom.

"Select lettuce of the green, loose-leaved variety," Miss McGill advises the Colonel, "and that will resemble more closely the delicate green leaves which the originator of this dish probably picked from her own backyard garden."

LETTUCE AND SOUR CREAM DRESSING.

Two heads loose-leaved lettuce. Two tablespoons fresh meat fryings. One tablespoon flour. One cup rich sour cream. Salt and pepper to taste. Vinegar and sugar to taste. Three hard-cooked eggs.

"In the original recipe the sugar and vinegar were added at the table," Miss McGill explained. "When I tried the recipe, however, I added them before serving. It is no longer customary to use casters and lazy susans on the dining table."

Suppose that you want to try this old-time recipe and a pan-fried meat and boiled potatoes. The choice of the meat will leave to you—any steak, meat patties, veal steak or cutlets, pork chops ham or roast. The eggs may be used. Unless memory serves us wrong, all these meats yielded fryings for this excellent dressing enjoyed in our childhood.

The eggs may be hard cooked while the potatoes are boiling; they may be waiting in the icebox for just such an occasion as a quick dinner. The lettuce should be separated into leaves, coarse as well as tender, for the former are equal in value to the latter, which have been boiling gently, place in a dish and dust with salt, pepper and dots of butter. Set in the oven to keep.

Meanwhile, pan-fry the meat, and when it is done remove to a hot platter and keep warm in the oven. Drain the potatoes, which have been boiling gently, place in a dish and dust with salt, pepper and dots of butter. Set in the oven to keep.

Warm. The oven heat should not be great enough to cook either meat or potatoes during the few minutes required to make the sour cream dressing.

Keep two tablespoons of fryings in the pan and add a tablespoon of flour; when smooth and mixed with the meat particles left in the pan, stir in the sour cream and salt and pepper to taste. The seasoning of meat varies in every home. No exact amount of salt and pepper can, therefore, be given here.

Cook the dressing gently until it thickens, stirring constantly. Taste. Add a little vinegar, not too sharp, and a little sugar until just the right combination is reached. Then pour at once over the waiting lettuce and eggs. At table toss the salad in the dressing before serving.

With the boiled potatoes and meat the lettuce will be most acceptable.

ON THE HIGH SEAS.

WON'T you please tell me through your column, which you make so entertaining, the gracious wording of a note of thanks for fruit, flowers, candy or a book sent to the ship as a bon voyage gift. Also a few worded radio message conveying to one's family that their wandering daughter is okay so far.

It's a bit difficult for a third person to suggest the wording of such a personal note, dear friend, for such a thoughtful gift into the hands of the sender is a close friend who should be sent a warm, personal note, a note reflecting that relationship. However, may be this will suggest some phrases that may be incorporated in a letter of this kind:

Dearest Mary: How charmingly characteristic of you to be so thoughtful as to send me the beautiful going-away message! Bless you for it, and for the superb book. Nothing was needed to make my trip perfect except your good thought, and "The Bridge of San Luis Rey."

What a book—perfect for a bon voyage gift. The sketches lend themselves to reading at different times, when one felt in the mood. (Although I must confess that it is difficult to leave the book down, once it has been started.)

The sea has been kind and the sun has been shining and the voyage has been a memory-making one. I won't promise many letters, but I'll keep in touch with you "by post-card." And then prepare to be talked to much when I return with my traveler's tales!

Dearest love to you, and again my deepest thanks for your perfect thought.

Affectionately yours, Now about the radio to the family. If your budget allows, you may be chatty and facetious in these messages, and if it doesn't, most of us have to budget this kind of item in order to have more for the traveling that we have set out to do—one or two words carry the important news. "Excellent trip. Landed safe and happy." Or "Landed today. Love."

BOOK PLATES.

WILL you please tell me exactly how book plates are used? I have a box of 50 and do not quite understand how to use them.

READER.

Book plates are pasted in the front of our books—if we are fortunate enough to have book plates!—to give them the personal possession air. They are usually pasted on the back of the cover, in the front; that is, on the very first page on the left as one opens the book. They may be pasted in the center of the page or a bit to the top, according to the design of the plate itself. I am sure that you are going to enjoy very much owning a book plate.

"I don't see anything wrong with that thing," said he to himself. "All I have to do is to reach in and take one of those pieces. There certainly can be no harm in that. My, not since I was born have I tasted anything nicer. I'll look this thing over first though."

WHITEY DISCOVERS SOMETHING QUEER.

Discontent desire stirs,
And this in turn ambition spurs.
—Old Mother Nature.

SINCE Whitely's return to the dear Old Briar-patch life there had been very simple and quiet. There was little or no excitement inside that dear Old Briar-patch. After little Peter had safely reached home and found that Whitely was safe, she made him promise that he would never, never run away again. And for a time Whitely had had no desire to. He had had enough of the Great World. He was even a bit timid about venturing out to the sweet clover patches near the dear Old Briar-patch.

But after a time Whitely grew discontented. It was perfectly natural that he should. It is the way of the young. There was nothing to do there but eat and sleep. His brothers and sisters were gone and Whitely was lonesome for others of his own age. So he began to wander about uneasily. That is what he had been doing when he had discovered Farmer Brown's Boy and Bowser the Hound. He had seen Bowser before, because Bowser had visited the dear Old Briar-patch alone; but he had never seen any of those two-legged creatures called men until he saw Farmer Brown's Boy.

The very sight of such a strange creature frightened Whitely, so he kept himself well hidden. And then Farmer Brown's Boy had thrown a stick that had landed very close to where Whitely was squatting. "He had jumped and run. But no harm had come from this and presently Farmer Brown's Boy and Bowser the Hound had tramped away across the Green Meadows.

It was the very next day that Whitely saw Farmer Brown's Boy again. At the time Little Mrs. Peter was taking a nap in another part of the dear Old Briar-patch, and Peter Rabbit was over in the Green Forest. Whitely kept himself hidden. In fact, he kept himself so well hidden that he couldn't see Farmer Brown's Boy and what he was doing after the latter reached the dear Old Briar-patch. But he could hear him doing something over on one edge. Finally all was quiet and after a little while ventured to crawl out where he could peek out of the dear Old Briar-patch. Farmer Brown's Boy was tramping away across the Green Meadows.

Whitely watched until Farmer Brown's Boy had become a speck in the distance. Then he started for the place where he had heard Farmer Brown's Boy at work. ## A DISH FOR TODAY

Lamb's Hearts.

ALLOW one heart to each person. Wash trim and parboil the hearts in lightly salted water until tender, then remove, trim and slice in medium slices. Meantime take a large can of tomatoes and add to them a minced onion, a half cupful of chopped celery, a bay leaf, pepper, salt, a saltspoonful of curry powder, and two tablespoons of sugar. Cook gently for half an hour, strain, add a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, thicken with roux and strain into a saucepan, add the hearts and allow to remain just long enough to reheat them. Serve on a hot dish garnished with toast appetizers. The entire dish can be made in the morning and just reheated, which will take about 15 minutes.

Linen Golf Frock.

Novel dresses for the golf course always have an appeal. A short sleeved model of imported butcher linen in all favored colors is distinctive because of its skirt pleats that are in step and stair arrangement. Zest is added by means of an awning striped belt.

HOW TO BE WELL DRESSED AT THE SEASIDE RESORT

By JANE REGNY.

PARIS. I HAVE been asked to describe what I consider the ideal wardrobe for a chic seaside resort. I shall tell you what I think an elegant woman would require. This being, of course, a somewhat extensive outfit, it can be modified to suit the purse of those who are unable to give full play to their taste, and can be suitably condensed to form the usual week-end equipment that has to be packed into the luggage carrier of an automobile.

For a prolonged stay at Deauville, Le Touquet, Biarritz or any other smart watering place, there are many considerations to bear in mind. If you choose to adopt it, there is a suitable costume for almost every hour of the day.

Sundays the morning is as important as any other part of the day. The modern woman seems able to carry on with the minimum of sleep, for however late she may appear at the Casino, she now always appears on the beach for her morning dip and sun bath (assuming that the sun deigns to appear). The habit of taking a minute's stroll before luncheon as one's first appearance belongs to a past age. Therefore the first costume is the bathing suit. I think three are essential. One, perfectly plain, is required for swimming. This is best reduced to the least possible dimensions, for swimming needs freedom. Then there should be two others, less attenuated and more fanciful, perhaps of crepe de chine or fancy foulard, for the sun bath. These will naturally be adjusted to match your evening decolette, for nobody would think of appearing with a sunburn rim bordered with white skin above the edge of an evening gown.

THESE costumes should be accompanied by at least one wrap or peignoir or by a cape, which is less practical, but infinitely becoming and which may also serve as a rug to spread in the sand.

Cape, needless to say, accompany each costume, for the effect of sea water is not enhancing, even to the closest thing.

Then comes the cocktail hour. At some places, Deauville for instance, you may take your morning cocktail in your bathing costume, for the bar is at the border of the sands. At Biarritz, on the other hand, where there is perhaps more under sunbathing than at any other place, you may not set foot at the bar in your bathing costume. When you take your aperitif in bathing costume, that employed for the sun bath should be worn. The clever dressmaker will invent a movable skirt to be worn with this, so that when you take your place at the bar you will seem to be wearing an ordinary sweater and skirt, with the sweater a little more decollete than that you would wear at any other time. This simple skirt, usually made to wrap over, is very popular with my smartest clients, who really prefer to look fully dressed when not actually on the beach. Naturally, when one calls on friends for a cocktail, or takes it in the village or town, a simple sports frock is required. A plain sweater and skirt is always correct for the morning; usually accompanied by a scarf or handkerchief in keeping with the ensemble, or a little cardigan jacket, according to the temperature. This can be varied by details, such as the belt, scarf and bag. Some of my belts show a new trick this season, being fastened at the back instead of in front. If a dress is worn in the morning it should be of the simplest.

IF YOU want to be economical, choose one or two perfectly cut skirts and ring the changes by a number of sweaters of different harmonizing colors and designs. For luncheon simple frocks are best. If you do not want to wear severe sports kit, choose something in plain or printed crepe de chine, simply made, differing only in fabric from your sports frocks, with perhaps the addition of a pleated skirt or two. If the atmosphere is cool a plain lamé or a matching the principal shade of your printed crepe de chine or a tone darker than your plain one is both smart and practical.

For tennis you need as many white washing frocks as possible, but only white. Heavy crepe de chine is smartest, either plain or with a tiny self-colored design. It washes perfectly and always looks fresh and smart and does not crumple immediately you sit down as cotton fabrics do. Personally, I prefer a white coat to wear over the tennis frock. This can be either short or long, according to the requirements of the temperature.

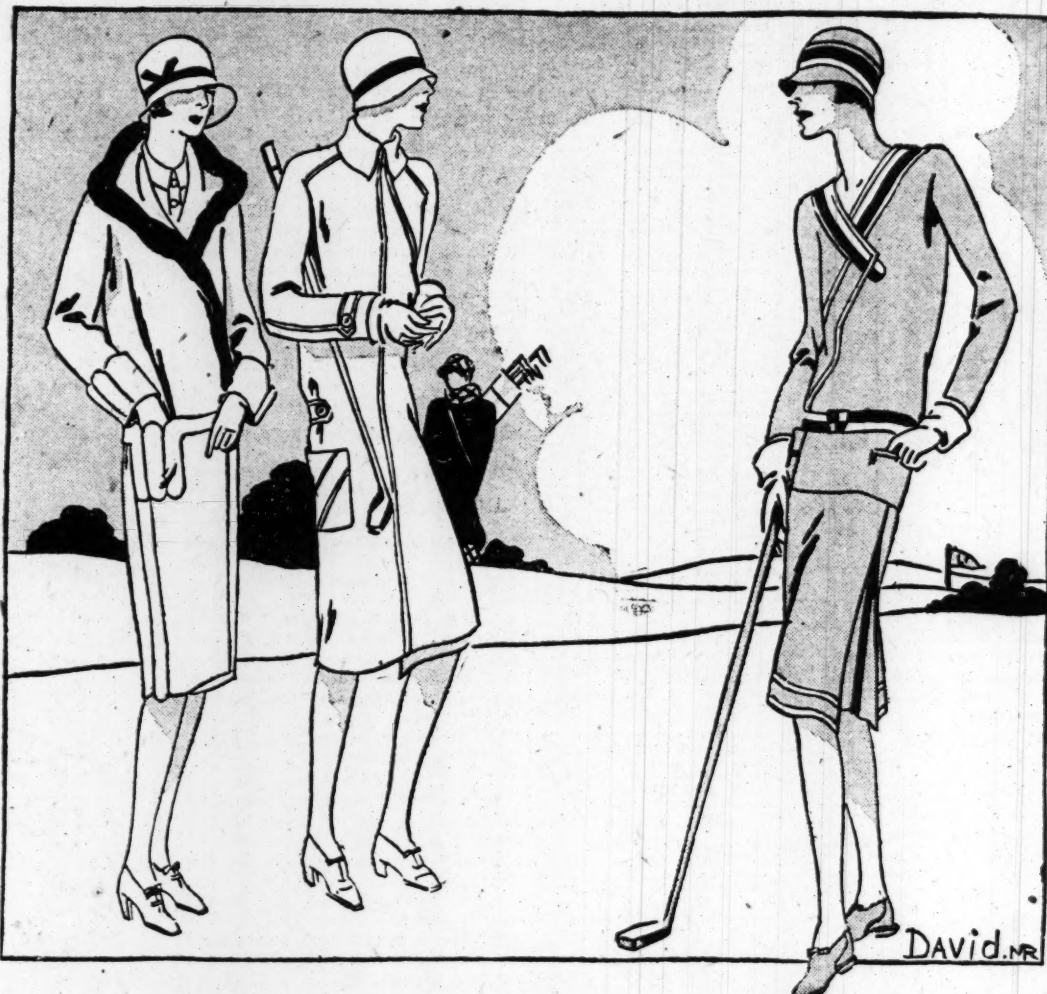

When you play golf your morning sweaters and skirts will be suitable in this case so that the pleats of the latter are so arranged as not to interfere in any way with your swing. Nothing is more tiresome than a skirt that blows up in the wind.

If you are only looking on or taking tea with your golfing friends the crepe de chine frock you wore for luncheon will be perfectly suitable.

FOR motoring all the frocks I have mentioned above will be suitable with the addition of a long coat that will protect them from the dust, made with a wide wrap-over front that prevents the

Jane Regny makes the classical motif bathing suit amusing by carrying it out in wool jersey patterned in a cubistic design of different colors, blue, beige, navy and dark grenadine red.

A warm coat is a necessity at all the northern places. This attractive model is carried out in one of Rodier's homespun finish gray-beige linings. It is trimmed with a narrow band of castor.

Unfortunately a waterproof is also an essential part of our equipment. Nothing could be smarter than this one of white crepe de chine made with a side fastening.

Equally chic for the golfer or the onlooker is this frock of beige lamé strapped with bands of cloth in orange and gray. The belt is of orange and gray leather with a buckle to match. Note the convenient side pleat.

For those who do not take their morning cocktail in bathing costume, Jane Regny shows this charming little frock of pale green crepe de chine with a clever cut in movement.

Race meetings forming an important part of one's program at smart French resorts, Jane Regny proposes this chic frock of grayish blue flameng, cut with a clever cut in movement.

Beauty Shop Students Practice on the Poor

THE poor young mother who in her melodramas sells her treasures to buy bread for her starving children now has two more meal tickets offered her by Paris Fashion.

When her head of long hair is gone at a good price, she still can rent the use of her bobbed head for the practice of future hairdressers and can allow student manicurists to file her nails.

These are new professions of the poor and the courageous. There is no hardship now in the sale of the braided pigtail, but there is pain and humiliation in the frequent marcel and the oft-repeated manures. The young hairdresser, too unskillful to be trusted with a customer, experiments with irons too hot or too cold on hair that in a few days is burned and ragged and ugly with uneven waves.

And the manicurists prick and cut in learning their trade until the patient, although well paid, soon prefers hunger.

ORANGE JUICE IN SUMMER RECIPES

By Hannah Wing

ORANGE juice has become so important an ingredient in cooking and in summer beverages that the new concentrated orange juice, now sold in bottles, is welcomed as a waiting kitchen. The flavor of the undiluted product is much like that of orange marmalade. It is of thick syrupy consistency, which makes it possible to use it without diluting. However, when the equivalent of orange juice is desired, a bottle of the juice will take enough water to give a quart of the mixture.

Orange Foam.—Four eggs, four tablespoons concentrated orange juice, two tablespoons water, one-half teaspoon lemon juice, one-eighth teaspoon salt and one-fourth cup powdered sugar.

Stir all the ingredients together in top of double boiler. Cook over hot water for 15 minutes, beating with an egg beater continually. Serve immediately.

Cucumber Pickle.

Twenty-five cucumbers, sliced, 10 onions, sliced. Put ½ cup salt over them and let stand for 2 hours. Drain and add 1½ pints of vinegar, 1 cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon mustard seeds, 1 teaspoon celery seed, ¼ teaspoon turmeric powder. Boil for 5 minutes, put in sterilized jars and seal.

by WARWICK DEEPIING

AUTHOR OF

SYNOPSIS.

Old John Pybus, formerly a bookseller in London and later in Winterbourne, is serving as a porter in an inn at Castle Craven when his son, Conrad, sees him there. He's been estranged from both his sons since the beginning of the war and they have lost track of him. Conrad hastens to tell his brother, Probyn, that he has seen his father. Probyn's son, Lance Pybus, had believed his grandfather dead, but he looks him up at the Saracen's Head without telling his parents of the meeting. When Lance finishes at Cambridge he takes a room in London and after gaining his father's reluctant consent and a small allowance he devotes himself to writing. In London Lance meets and is attracted to Olive Gadsden, a married woman.

Mary Merris, a friend of old Pybus, takes care of a blind brother.

INSTALLMENT XLVII.

A NEED OF COURAGE

MARY opened one of the wire doors, and went slowly down toward the orchard. She looked across the valley toward Castle Craven, and seeing it so dimly gray and remote upon its hill, she paused as though the old town sent her a message for her. "Here I stand, my dear. I too, have stood a siege and though they battered at me I did not surrender." She recovered a moment of romance in remembering how a young man on a white charger had ridden up the valley at the head of 2000 horse and how the Parliament men had marched away and Castle Craven had rung its bells and fired off its cannon. Yes, such memories stirred her; she had eyes for the color of them.

She walked on, and then another memory arrested her and brought her to a pause by the orchard gate. Had it happened and only yesterday? Had she surprised Gilbert rummaging at her bureau for the petty cash that she had been compelled to hide? And the sick face! She had felt a horrible coldness, a humiliation that was both his and her own.

"What is it, Gil?" "Bob's coming down. You might realize."

She had been shocked by the silliness of her own words. "How much do you owe him?" Oh, the beastliness of it, the sneaking, shameful, surreptitious game that she was being compelled to play with this poor, blind thing! And the beastliness of her own man, his almost incredible meanness! Because she would not play that other sort of game! Because his vanity had been slapped!

She went on and down through the orchard. She found the front door open, and an unattended chair standing on the little lawn. She hesitated in front of that open door, for the doorway of her own home had become a dark cupboard full of childish fears. She heard the clinking of crockery. The girl, Nelly, was getting tea ready.

She called to the girl. "Nelly."

"Yes, Miss."

"Where is Mr. Gilbert?" "Don't know, Miss."

"Haven't you seen him?" "I saw him go out of the gate, Miss."

"When?"

"Maybe—half an hour ago."

She stood a moment, considering, one hand laid along her cheek.

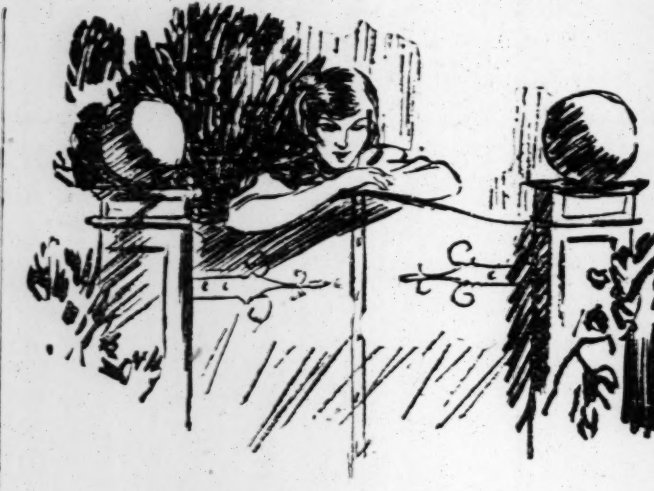

Going down to the white gate she followed her chair, and her following of it was an act of courage. The lane climbed gradually to the Woolshot park gates, and a blind man tapping, tapping, could track his way along the grass bank and the oak fence. That was her conclusion, and confronting it she went on up the winding lane under the shade of the beeches, conscious of an anger that carried her on, and of fashion. Woolshot was all gray. The portico and its six steps were flanked on either side by a terrace, and upon the terrace wall round box trees in stone urns punctuated the horizontal scheme like a row of gigantic green plum puddings. In summer weather Woolshot took its tea here outside the long windows of the sun room and the library, for the atmosphere of Woolshot was dominantly male. And on this September day Mr. Hargreaves had guests, three hard little men and two women with efficient, weather-beaten faces. They had been shooting over one of the Woolshot farms.

"Hullo, young fellow, my lad! Run away again from your good sister, have you? This is Mr. Gilbert Merris. Merris, you can't see my crowd, but there are five of 'em. Sit down, here's a pew."

Merris sat where he was placed, and took what was given him. Very sensitive to sounds and more especially to voices, he had no choice but to listen to these strangers who talked of things of which he knew nothing. He sat and smiled that little sinister smile, and held a tea cup balanced on his knees. back of it, smoked a cigar, and looked at nothing with blue eyes that were sensual and sheepy. The other voices were arguing.

Young Merris heard Hargreaves speaking to him. "You ought to be pretty good at blind man's bluff, young fellow."

There was a tremor of the closed eyelids.

"That's a game I could play."

"Here, fill up, or will you have a cigar?"

"I've left my pipe at home."

"Wild lad. Catch hold. Ha!"

And suddenly Hargreaves was silent, staring with those blue eyes of his over the stone coping of the terrace wall. He had in view a loop of the park road, where it curved between two groups of old trees. He saw the tawny slip of a figure, her short brown skirt and dove-colored legs. She had paused there. She was looking up toward the house.

He smiled.

"Supposing your sister came to fetch you, young fellow?"

"But she won't. Tell me if I'm in the way here."

"Don't be foolish. You'll stay and have some dinner with me. O yes, you will. I'll see you home. This crowd is pushing off before long."

Meanwhile he watched the figure down yonder. It seemed to hesitate, and its hesitations interested him as the falterings of a rather timid creature might interest a big tawny beast couchant upon a rock. Would she have the cheek or the courage to come up to the house? Were his playful pawings of her cub of a brother exercising powers of persuasion? Probably it was only a question of time, for women are temperamental creatures.

He saw her turn back. She retreated down the loop of the road and disappeared behind the trees. So, she had not the courage, or perhaps her courage failed her in the daylight, but on some evening when it was dark. Yes, women like cats, were discreet and remote.

3. "Where is Mr. Gilbert?"

4. "Don't know, Miss."

5. "Haven't you seen him?"

6. "I saw him go out of the gate, Miss."

7. "When?"

8. "Maybe—half an hour ago."

9. She stood a moment, considering, one hand laid along her cheek.

10. Going down to the white gate she followed her chair, and her following of it was an act of courage. The lane climbed gradually to the Woolshot park gates, and a blind man tapping, tapping, could track his way along the grass bank and the oak fence. That was her conclusion, and confronting it she went on up the winding lane under the shade of the beeches, conscious of an anger that carried her on, and of fashion. Woolshot was all gray. The portico and its six steps were flanked on either side by a terrace, and upon the terrace wall round box trees in stone urns punctuated the horizontal scheme like a row of gigantic green plum puddings. In summer weather Woolshot took its tea here outside the long windows of the sun room and the library, for the atmosphere of Woolshot was dominantly male. And on this September day Mr. Hargreaves had guests, three hard little men and two women with efficient, weather-beaten faces. They had been shooting over one of the Woolshot farms.

"Hullo, young fellow, my lad! Run away again from your good sister, have you? This is Mr. Gilbert Merris. Merris, you can't see my crowd, but there are five of 'em. Sit down, here's a pew."

Merris sat where he was placed, and took what was given him. Very sensitive to sounds and more especially to voices, he had no choice but to listen to these strangers who talked of things of which he knew nothing.
